Communist Giants Divided on President-Elect

Reaction Friendly In Moscow

Red China Sticks To Hate Policy

LONDON (AP)—The giants of the Communist world split today in their reaction to the election of John F. Kennedy. Moscow was friendly, Peiping hostile.

While most of the Free World looked to the U.S. president-elect for dynamic new leadership, Soviet Premier Khrushchev fired off a congratulatory telegram to Kennedy declaring readiness for "most friendly relations" and proposing negotiations on disarmament, Germany and other cold war issues.

Khrushchev Hopeful

Khrushchev, who blamed President Eisenhower for the U2 incident and collapse of the Paris summit, said he hoped Soviet-American relations "will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time."

Red China's official New China news agency, however, described the president-elect as a member of one of America's richest families and called him an advocate of military spending and war preparations.

The comment made clear that the election has not altered Peiping's hate-America policy.

Reflects Argument

The differing Red reactions reflected the Moscow-Peiping argument over peaceful coexistence—with Khrushchev holding that war is not inevitable because communism can triumph by peaceful competition, and the Red Chinese arguing that "just wars" are inevitable as long as capitalism exists.

Moscow's Pravda, the communist party newspaper, claimed American voters had rejected Vice President Richard M. Nixon because Republican policy had not conformed to "the interests of safeguarding peace." Moscow radio said some observers believed the new administration would make a "more realistic appraisal of the international situation."

The election of the first Roman Catholic president was received with satisfaction at the Vatican.

Pope John XXIII, in a congratulatory cable to Kennedy, prayed that "Almighty God may assist you" and expressed his good wishes to 'the beloved American people."

Fires Burn in Ireland

Along the coast of Ireland's County Wexford, from which Kennedy's great-grandfather emigrated during the famine of 1847, a chain of bonfires burned Wednesday night. The little town of Newross was gay with flags in celebration.

Most Western newspapers viewed the election in the light of the cold war and looked to Kennedy to put new life in the Western alliance.

'Big Sleep Ends'—London

"The big sleep ends" said a headline in London's conservative Daily Mail.

Stockholm Expressen, Scandinavia's largest newspaper, said

State Collects $4,965 in County For 80 Underpaid

Nearly $5,000 in minimum wage underpayments have been collected by the New York State Department of Labor, Albany, for employes in Ulster County over a nine-month period.

According to Edward J. Ray, assistant industrial commissioner, who said about three quarters of a million dollars was collected throughout the state, 80 workers in 33 Ulster County establishments received $4,965.

Between January 1 and September 30, a total of $715,081, from 5,712 establishments throughout the state, was channeled by the department to some 16,657 wage earners to whom the money was due.

Enforcement of minimum wage standards is a responsibility of the department's Division of Industrial Relations, which sends out field investigators.

Where an employe is found to be receiving wages less than minimum stipulated in the appropriate wage order, the department has authority to collect underpayments from the employer for the employe.

CHRISTMAS SEALS FIGHT

SENDING OUT TB SEALS—Beginning next week thousands of Ulster County residents will receive their 1960 Christmas seals from the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, according to the campaign chairman for the fourth year, Robert S. Russell of Saugerties. Miss Hazel Stead, executive director of the association, is shown helping fill one of mail pouches which will be picked up by Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk's forces before Saturday. Proceeds from the seals are used to help with projects of the association. (Freeman photo).

Red Congratulates Kennedy

K's Soft Words Point To Lull in Cold War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev is already maneuvering for a summit conference with President-elect John F. Kennedy. He has begun with soft words and this probably signifies a lull in the cold war for the next several months.

Western diplomats here agree that Khrhshchev's interest in resuming negotiations looking to a new summit meeting was behind the unusual message of congratulations which he dispatched to Kennedy Wednesday.

In his message, Khrushchev called for a return to the kind of Soviet-U.S. relations which existed in the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a time when the two countries were allied against Nazi Germany. But he went beyond that reference to the past.

He declared that in the interest of world peace the Soviet Union is ready "to continue the efforts to solve such a pressing problem as disarmament, to settle the German issue through the earliest conclusion of a peace treaty and to reach agreement on other questions."

"Any steps in this direction," he said in a sentence that could embrace both summit and diplomatic negotiations, "will always meet with the full understanding and support of the Soviet government."

Willing for Summit

Kennedy during the campaign declared himself willing to go to the summit but only on condition that "there is some reason to believe that a meeting of minds can be obtained on either Berlin, outer space, or general disarmament—including nuclear testing."

For the period immediately after the next president takes office Jan. 20 Kennedy said the president should focus on building up U.S. strength because "the Soviet Union does understand strength."

Neither in Kennedy's statement before the election nor in Khruschev's new message is there any hint of changes in basis U.S. or Soviet policy.

Ready to Resume

Khrushchev has said repeatedly that he wants a peace treaty signed separately by East and West Germany, whereas the United States stands firm on a peace treaty signed by a united Germany. Khrushchev wants the western Allies to pull out of West Berlin. Kennedy, like Eisenhower, has pledged firm U. S. support for the continued independence of West Berlin from Communist rule.

What the friendly wording of the Khrushchev message does seem to mean is that the Soviet leader is prepared to resume active broadscale negotiations with a new U. S. administration on a variety of problems.

Two Teeners Get Stern Reprimand For Making Bombs

Two teenagers booked on charges dealing with the making and carrying of firecrackers or explosives considered to be small bombs because they were enclosed in metal, drew suspended jail sentences and stern reprimand from City Judge Aaron E. Klein Wednesday night, and were placed on probation.

A driver charged with leaving the scene of an accident in which two parked cars were damaged paid a $100 fine. He was Leo H. Simon, 49, of Norwalk, Conn., who police said drove a vehicle which struck and damaged the cars of Patsy Petromale, 47 Wurts Street, and Frank Petromale, 49 Wurts Street, while they were parked on that street Nov. 6.

Simon, the report said, drove a car owned by the Coliseum Drive-Ur-Self, Inc., 1850 Broadway, New York, and was apprehended in the Highland area.

Happened Halloween

Charges against the teenagers, John DeKoskie, 17, of 26 Snyder Avenue, and John DiMuccio, 17, of 68 Howland Avenue, police said, date back to Halloween night when police were called to a Hurley Avenue house after reported egg throwing on a porch. They were picked up on Hurley

Plan New Paltz Hearing For Two Schools Nov. 28

Officials of the New Paltz Central School district have planned a public hearing to be held in the high school auditorium on Nov. 28 to explain plans for two proposed new eight room schools and the purchase of sites, and also set Dec. 6 for voters to decide a $700,000 bond issue for the school program.

The League of Women's Voters will assist at the hearing during which residents of the district will have an opportunity to ask questions of district officials about the bond issue.

The new schools would accommodate children in grades K-6 according to plans.

The New Paltz Central School Board for the last 18 months made a study of school needs in the district and inspected sites for the schools, and during that period the board members obtained advice from the State Department of Education regarding the school building program.

Study Population Growth

A study of population growth in the district made by Joseph Foley, a school board member; Fred C. Dippel, supervising principal and Raymond Buckley, high school principal, showed the need within the next five years of at least 16 additional classrooms, it was said. The classrooms will be needed to permit the expansion of the high school and junior high school to the elementary wing of the present all-inclusive building, and to furnish classrooms for the growing

DeSapio Accepts Dems' Challenge

Warns Insurgents as Feud Breaks Open in Move to Change Leadership

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic National Committeeman Carmine G. DeSapio has accepted a post-election challenge from New York party insurgents and declares "if it's a war they want, they shall have it."

DeSapio also took a shot at Alex Rose, top strategist of the Liberal Party which can decide a close race between the Democrats and Republicans.

Lehman Leads Blast

The long feud between the Democratic party regulars and insurgents broke into open warfare again less than 24 hours after the Democrats, aided by the Liberal Party, delivered the state's vital 45 electoral votes to Sen. John F. Kennedy.

There had been a truce between the Democratic factions, and the organization and insurgent groups waged separate campaigns for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

But a few hours after the polls closed there were new blasts from the insurgent camp—led by Herbert H. Lehman, former governor and U.S. Senator; Thomas K. Finletter, former Air Force secretary, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Claims Major Share

Lehman announced that his group was ending the truce. His statement also claimed a major share of credit for the state Democratic victory for the Citizens for Kennedy Committee which worked with the insurgents.

Irving M. Engel, an official of the insurgent group called the New York Committee for Democratic Voters, declared: "The truce is over...We must take up the cudgels again to change the leadership of the Democratic party in the state and county."

He referred to New York County (Manhattan) where DeSapio is party chief as leader of Tammany Hall.

Both Engel and Lehman said New York State Democrats could not support Kennedy's programs properly unless they got new leadership.

Faction Charges Bossism

The insurgents charge bossism under the leadership of DeSapio and Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast.

DeSapio, angered by the post election insurgent declarations, issued this statement late Wednesday:

"The time has come to stop coddling those who, resting on past laurels, resort to deceit and demogoguery as they permit themselves to be used by opportunists who desire to rule or to ruin the Democratic Party.

"They will neither rule or ruin

Civil War Hero Monument Here Dedicated in 1890

Veterans organizations will conduct memorial services at 11 a. m. Friday in front of the World War I tablet near the Soldiers and Sailors monument in front of City Hall, which was dedicated on Oct. 22, 1890, and at 8 p. m. at Academy Green, Albany Avenue, in observance of Veterans Day.

Both programs are under sponsorship of the Kingston Veterans Association in memory of citizens who served their country in times of war.

Sullivan Gives Account

In view of the observance of Veterans Day, City Historian Joseph F. Sullivan today recalled that the Soldiers and Sailors monument on the lawn in front of City Hall was dedicated 70 years ago to those who served their country during the Civil War.

The historian said an article published Oct. 22, 1890 in the Kingston Daily Freeman read in part, "This day, selected for the unveiling of the monument erected to commemorate the historic deeds of the soldiers and sailors of Ulster County who bore arms in the great Civil War, was one of the most beautiful of the year."

On that day, people from all

Board Discusses Site Wanted For Gas Station, Dock Repair

Further consideration of requested use of the Ingalls and Saccoman properties, Broadway and Franklin Street as a gas station site was left with Mayor Edwin F. Radel and other officials after discussion at a Board of Public Works meeting Wednesday night.

The board also considered repair of crumbling dock frontage along Dock Street at a cost of slightly more than $30,000 and will seek Common Council approval of a first phase of the project.

Discussion of the dock problem followed a proposal from Island Dock, Inc. It was noted that some 400 feet of the dock needs repair, and upon Mayor Radel's suggestion the board favored doing the first 100 feet at an estimated cost of $8,000 with Common Council approval.

Sections of the dock front along the street, which in recent years is heavily traveled by trucks and other vehicles, are being dangerously eroded and undermined.

Loss of curbing and parking space along Broadway were points of discussion dealing with use by the American Oil Co., Albany Avenue Extension, of properties owned by Mary H. Ingalls, and Anthony P. F. and Thomas Saccoman, for operation of a gasoline service station.

Attorney John J. Schick represented Amoco, and several com-

DEDICATED 70 YEARS AGO—The Soldiers and Sailors monument (above), dedicated to those who served in the nation's Civil War was dedicated 70 years ago, it is recalled by Joseph F. Sullivan, city historian, in view of the fact that Friday is Veterans' Day, when veterans organizations will hold memorial services here. One program will take place at 11 a. m. in front of the World War I tablet, near the older monument, at City Hall. The other is scheduled for 8 p. m. at Academy Green, Albany Avenue. Both are under the sponsorship of the Kingston Veterans Association in memory of citizens who served their country during times of war. (Freeman photo).

President Offers Meeting

No Kennedy Reply Yet To Ike on Transition

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower offered today to meet with President-elect John F. Kennedy "at any mutually convenient time" to arrange an orderly transfer of governmental power.

The President also said he would welcome meetings between designated Kennedy representatives and those of the Eisenhower administration, particularly Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Suggests Aide Be Sent

In a message sent from his vacation headquarters, Eisenhower suggested that Kennedy send an aide to meet with the White House chief of staff, Wilton B. Persons to make the arrangements.

"I would like you to know that I stand ready to meet with you at any mutually convenient time to consider problems of continuity of government and an orderly transfer of executive responsibility on January 20 from my administration to yours," the President said.

Eisenhower sent this message Wednesday in a telegram to Kennedy at his Hyannis Port, Mass., headquarters. Press secretary James Hagerty made it public this morning after an expected Kennedy reply had not arrived in time to be released simultaneously with the President's wire.

Hagerty told newsmen he understood Kennedy's answer—pre-

Po'keepsie Votes Police, Firemen Salary of $6,300

Poughkeepsie voters on Tuesday approved by a vote of 5,676 to 5,405, a plurality of 271, a career pay plan for the city's police and fire departments which will boost their present maximum $5,250 pay of firemen and patrolmen to $6,300 a year.

The new career plan for police and firemen will bring their base pay up to $6,300 a year after 15 years of service. However, men who have served that much time on the job will receive increases of $1,050 a year immediately.

Third in 11 Years

The increase approved Tuesday is the third in 11 years won by police department members in referendums.

A $500 annual increase in pay requested by the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association on Nov. 8, 1949, was approved by a vote of 6,671 to 2,829, a plurality of 3,842. On Nov. 8, 1955, the PBA asked that salaries of experienced men be increased from $4,108 a year to $5,000 and the proposition was approved by a vote of 4,798 to 3,494, a plurality of 1,304.

325,000 Is Kennedy's Edge Now

Count Continuing In Calif., Alaska

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a dwindling popular margin from a record voter turnout, Sen. John F. Kennedy held 300 electoral votes today as he prepared to take over the presidency 71 days hence.

With counting continuing in California and Alaska, Kennedy had captured 22 states with 300 electoral votes—31 more than the needed 269. Vice President Richard M. Nixon took control in 25 states with 188 votes. Eight electors in Mississippi and six in Alabama were not committed.

May Be Less Than Majority

But in the popular vote, Kennedy held a margin of less than 325,000 votes in a tally of more than 66 million for the major party candidates. With returns yet to come and tallies for minor parties, it appeared that Kennedy's presidential victory might come on less than a majority of the popular vote cast. His 50.2 per cent of the popular vote made it the tightest election since the first Benjamin Harrison-Grover Cleveland race in 1888. Republican Harrison won an electoral victory then while running more than 100,000 behind in popular vote.

Plans already were under way for Kennedy representatives to work with administration officials in arranging for the changeover next Jan. 20.

Foreseeing a "difficult and challenging" period during the next four years, Kennedy said Wednesday that "there is general agreement by all our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s."

To Devote All Energies

"All of our energies will be devoted to the interests of the United States and the cause of freedom around the world."

Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will show some gains over the present lineup. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

Tuesday's election provided a Senate makeup of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 66-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in five House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 257 members and the Republicans 175. The old lineup, including vacancies, was 283-154.

Supervisors Will Meet Tonight, 8

The first meeting of the annual session of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the court house.

Included in this evening's business will be numerous "routine" matters in preparation to the conduct of the annual business. Among them will be the suspension of the rule which requires that a resolution calling for an appropriation be held over one meeting before it may be voted upon. Suspension of the rule will permit a vote on the same night the resolution is introduced.

Proposed equalization rates for the townships and the City of Kingston will also come before the meeting this evening for approval. In recent years the state rate has been accepted.

Whether the Community College matter will be before tonight's session is uncertain.

Senate House Assn. Posts Go to Hasbrouck, Kaplan

Gov. Rockefeller today named Kenneth E. Hasbrouck of Forest Glen, New Paltz, a trustee of the Senate House Association to replace Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz, whose term expired in October.

The governor also reappointed Harry Kaplan of Kingston. Both appoinments are for terms ending Oct. 9, 1965.

Hasbrouck, a teacher in the Wallkill Central School, is president of the Ulster County Historical Society and the Huguenot Historical Society of New Paltz Inc. Secretary-treasurer of the Ulster County Chapter of the Holland Society, he also serves as historian for the town and village of New Paltz and the towns of Gardiner and Shawangunk.

Kaplan, well-known business and civic leader in Kingston, has served 10 terms as president of the Ulster County Board of Health and has been a member of that board since its creation in 1946. Active in veteran and fraternal groups, he is a member of Elks, American Legion, B'nai B'rith, 40-8 Voiture Locale 381 and Wicks Hose Company No. 4.

He has served as vice president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, president of Kingston Fire Board and secretary of the Board of Public Works.

Official Dies, Noonan Chosen For His 11th Term

FRANKLINVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Leo P. Noonan, state legislator, newspaperman and educator, died Tuesday not knowing he had been re-elected to his 11th term in the State Assembly. He was 72.

The Republican legislator was found in his home Wednesday by Mrs. Fred Myrick, his landlady. Dr. John Anderson, Cattaraugus County coroner said the assemblyman died sometime Tuesday.

It was believed he had suffered a heart attack:

First elected to the State Assembly in 1940, Noonan won a sweeping victory over Democrat Levant M. Himelein Jr., and Francis A. Nelsen, the Liberal Party candidate, for the seat Tuesday. He gained a 9,591 plurality.

During his Assembly service, Noonan served as chairman of the Motor Vehicle Committee and with the pensions and Public Education Committees.

He was a native of Boston, Mass., and a graduate of Boston College. He also attended Harvard University and Blackstone College of Law.

He worked for the Quincy, Mass., Ledger, the Brockton, Mass., Enterprise and the Boston American.

Later, he served as principal of the Farmersville High School in nearby Farmersville for 18 years and was an examiner of social studies for the State Education Department.

A special election, sometime before the next session of the State Legislature, may be ordered by Gov. Rockefeller to fill the vacancy.

U. S. Dairy Exports Reported Down in '59

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States dairy product exports in 1959 were down substantially from the level of 1958.

Exports in 1959, based on a whole milk equivalent basis, totaled 1.2 billion pounds compared with 2.9 billion in 1958. This sharp reduction was caused mainly by the discontinuance of cheese shipments under the surplus disposal law.

Exports of dairy products were equal to about one per cent of total whole milk production in 1959.

TEN-YEAR TREND—Average weekly earnings of the nation's factory workers rose 51 per cent between 1950 and 1959. In terms of 1947-49 dollars, used as a base of 100, this increase amounted to 24 per cent. In 1959, the average factory worker's weekly earnings came to $89.47 in current dollars. Expressed in 1947-49 purchasing power, it was $71.81. Petroleum and coal factory workers had the highest earnings last year — $117.38 in current dollars. Home Front, Conservatives Main Barriers

Rocky Certain '64 Contender Despite N.Y. Switch to Dems

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, who failed to carry his home state for the Republican standard-bearer this week, nevertheless appears certain to emerge as a contender for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon lost New York by 400,000 votes, although President Eisenhower carried it by 1.5 million in 1956 and Rockefeller was elected by more than a half-million votes two years ago.

In Position to Move

But, despite this setback to Republican fortunes, Rockefeller's name is certain to loom large when the GOP starts seeking a national leader to restore the party to the victory trails.

Despite definite handicaps, Rockefeller is in position to move into national leadership.

He established himself as a dominant influence in party affairs last summer when he prevailed upon Nixon to incorporate a large portion of the Rockefeller views in the GOP national platform.

Rockefeller would have two major barriers to assuming control of GOP national affairs: Home-front problems and the animosity of the conservative Republican bloc.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a leader in the conservative element in the GOP, told a reporter at Phoenix, Ariz., Wednesday night: "If Mr. Rockefeller can't carry New York, he can't be reckor ' a figure to be contended with in the Republican Party."

There is, 7th graf pvs.

'62 Victory Vital

There is no question that he has lost ground in his home state since his upset election victory against a Democratic tide in 1958.

Shortly after his inauguration, Rockefeller put through a record tax increase that has been a source of controversy ever since.

To keep in the public eye, Rockefeller would have to win re-election in 1962. A victory seemingly would be much more difficult than it was two years ago.

But Rockefeller has shown ability to cut across party lines and win support from Democrats and independents. In addition, New York Democrats do not now appear to have a potential candidate to match Rockefeller's crowd appeal and grass-roots campaign techniques.

Sure He Cost Votes

The governor obviously would have to overcome a reservoir of ill will he created among Republicans with his prolonged criticisms of Nixon last spring and early summer.

While the governor campaigned intensively for Nixon after the GOP convention, some Republican leaders are sure to feel that Rockefeller's earlier activities cost Nixon votes.

But memories of political leaders often are short when the question comes down to victory or defeat. Republican leaders would forgive Rockefeller a good deal if they thought he could help them recapture the White House. Many GOP politicians disliked former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, but supported him because he was a winner in the state.

Another point that might work in Rockefeller's favor: "Who else is there?"

It is hardly likely that, after losing to the Democrats the GOP would turn to Sen. Barry Goldwater or others in its conservative wing.

Of course, new faces may emerge over the next four years.

But, as governor of New York for at least two of those years, Rockefeller will be in an ideal position to keep himself before the public, to remind the GOP that he is ready, willing and, most likely, readily available.

Will Be Tried for Holdup

LEBANON, Mo. (AP) — Robert Ridley, 19, of Burnt Hills, Saratoga County, N.Y., and Miami, Flam, will be tried in Circuit Court on a charge that he and a companion held up a filling station for $39.

Ridley pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing Wednesday and was held in lieu of $2,500 bail.

Milton Zavolcofskv, 23, of Brockton, Mass., Ridley's companion, was sentenced to serve 20 years in prison after pleading guilty to first-degree robbery.

The filling station, in Phillipsburg was robbed Sunday.

10,640 Cars in 10 Days

FLINT, Mich.—Buick dealers delivered 10,640 cars during the last 10 days of October, the biggest 10-day sales period in nearly two years, Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors, reported today. The previous high 10-day sales period was in the latter part of December, 1958, when 12,526 deliveries were made, Rollert said. Retail deliveries during October totaled 28,540 units, the highest for any month this year.

Will Ask Recount

ROME, N.Y. (AP)—The Republican and Democratic candidates for assemblyman from an Oneida County district have agreed to ask for an official recount of votes in the wake of a see-saw battle.

Republican incumbent David R. Townsend led by a 101-vote margin over Democrat Paul H. Worlock in an unofficial canvass that stood 29,696 to 29,595 Wednesday.

Worlock had been declared the unofficial winner election night.

Democratic Assembly gains would be reduced from eight to seven if Townsend retains his seat.

On Fence About 'Dry Laws'

DEPOSIT, N. Y. (AP)—This village straddling the Broome-Delaware County line is atop the fence in its feelings about "dry laws."

Citizens decided by 15 votes — 330-315 — to permit package-store sale of alcoholic beverages. They defeated three other propositions in Tuesday's election to allow the establishment of bars.

FIRM ON GUANTANAMO

Of course the United States must, as President Eisenhower has said in a special statement, defend and retain its naval base at Guantanamo. The base has for half a century been an important strongpoint for defense of the western hemisphere, and its importance is all the greater now that the Castro regime in Cuba has become so closely tied to the Communist bloc.

There has been no substantive reason for doubt as to the U.S. position on this matter all along. It is a good thing, however, that the President has stated our position with unmistakable clarity. There can now be no excuse for any pretended misunderstanding on the part of the Cuban government.

Mr. Eisenhower's statement made three essential points: that U.S. rights to maintain a base at Guantanamo are founded on a treaty which can be changed or revoked only by mutual agreement between the United States and Cuba; that this country has no intention of agreeing to any such change and will defend the base; that maintenance of the base poses no threat to Cuba or any other Latin American nation. Each of these points is valid, as the great majority of Americans will surely agree.

The importance of taking a firm stand on this matter has been increased by the irrational, rabble-rousing behavior of the Cuban government during several months past. All sorts of wild charges have been made, their central theme being that the U.S. government intends an invasion of Cuba.

Happily, the United Nations General Assembly has voted against Cuban-Soviet demands for a free-wheeling debate on these invasion charges in the General Assembly. The vote to keep this discussion in the political committee dashes cold water on Castro's and Khrushchev's hopes for a big "invasion" propaganda splash. The President's Guantanamo statement adds ice to that cold water.

NO NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

No Nobel peace prize will be awarded this year by the Swedish committee that makes the selection. Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, had been thought a likely recipient. Khrushchev's attack on him may have made the committee think it wiser not to affront the Russian dictator openly.

Since 1901, the year of the first award, the prize has been omitted 14 times. While the two world wars were going on, the awarding of a prize for peace seemed incongruous. At other times no candidate seemed particularly outstanding.

Eight Americans have received this honor: Theodore Roosevelt, Elihu Root, Woodrow Wilson, Frank B. Kellogg, Nicholas Murray Butler and Jane Addams, Cordell Hull, Gen. George C. Marshall. The American Friends Service Committee received the award in 1947. This year, apparently, no American was thought to have made an important enough contribution toward peace to merit consideration.

SPEAKING OF VACATIONS

A travel bureau reports that comparatively few Americans make a smart choice of places to spend their vacations. This judgment is predicated on the idea that vacations are intended primarily to provide a beneficial change in locations and living conditions.

What the travel bureau survey showed was that an average of only one in five families get that change. A poll was taken among 2,000 such folks, and 77 per cent had selected vacation spots where living and recreation were virtually the same as in their home environment.

Chances are, though, that they enjoyed themselves even more than some who went into entirely strange surroundings. There is nothing quite as comfortable and relaxing as feeling at home.

MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS

All over the country, municipalities are faced by demands for increased pay for municipal employes, particularly those essential to life and order, policemen, firemen, sanitation employes and teachers. The problem is a serious one because prices rise rapidly; there is a shortage of personnel in all these fields, particularly as the population is increasing; and local taxes are about reaching the limit.

This is not something for politicians and opportunists to handle. It requires profound and careful analysis, with particular emphasis on cutting extravagance, waste and graft out of municipal expenditures where they are well entrenched by tradition. The cut must be made of the unnecessary in order to have enough money for essentials.

For instance, the New York City Police Department has a personnel of about 27,000. This means that a maximum of 9,000 police are available at any time, unless there is an emergency. The actual number is less because men are away on vacation or are sick or are absent for other reasons. Also a number of this personnel is tied down to administrative positions. Putting the figure somewhere between 7,000 and 8,000 on actual service at a given moment, is this sufficient for a population of 8,000,000, policing about 319 square miles including 6,045 miles of streets and more than 34,000 acres of parks?

Obviously there are too few police to do an effective job and they are inadequately paid from the standpoint of the going rate for pay in this large city, as large as some countries. But the budget for this police department is $208,000,000 and as long as the city budget contains waste and extravagance, which must be dug out by some expert, impartial body, there is not sufficient money to have an adequate police department and to pay the police properly and decently.

I cite New York only because I know this city best, but the situation is universal and undoubtedly has much to do with the rise in crime, particularly juvenile crime. It is startling to note that in 1940, Federal, state and local government employes of all categories cost $565,000,000 which increased to $2,533,000,000 by 1957 and is larger today. Municipal employes rose from 2,532,000 in 1929 to 5,409,000 in 1957. In 1902, $50,000,000 was spent on police; in 1957, the cost was $1,623,000,000.

Municipal services are the most important function of government after the defense of the country. They concern order, health, sanitation and education. They concern the intimate affairs of each family. Most municipal expenditures are not postponable, although some are wasteful and carelessly managed.

It is basically wrong if municipal employes have to moonlight to maintain their standard of living. Their wages should be currently standard, with incentives to be honest and to risk their lives if necessary. An underpaid police force is a risk for a large municipality because the temptation to graft is very great under any circumstances; it becomes oppressive when the men are underpaid. Teachers are usually patient because they accepted work in an underpaid profession. Nevertheless, they, too, reach a point of dissatisfaction, particularly as such jobs as secretaries, stenographers, and laboratory assistants are more rewarding. The theory that the teachers are paid a year's salary for nine months of actual work is nonsense.

There will be those practical men who ask, where is the money to come from? The more important question is, where is the personnel to come from? The availability of men and women for teaching, for police work, and for other municipal functions is decreasing.

It is much like the medical profession. A young man, to be a doctor, needs between eight and ten years to get started. He takes a pre-med course at college; he goes to medical school; he interns in a hospital; he becomes a resident; he then goes into his specialty. He is still not earning a living but he is about 30 years of age. If he had the good fortune to go to a top-notch college and an excellent medical school, he has a chance of quicker advancement; if he goes to a poor college, of which there are all too many, and a second-rate medical school, his pace will be slower. In fact, he may not get a hospital connection at all.

This has to do with a disorganization of services by inflation and a lowering of values among municipal and professional workers.

Almost Forgotton Dye Opens Miracle Drug Door

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

How would you like to read a fairy story? Well, if you or any one in your family suffers from diabetes, severe acne, shaking palsy (parkinsonism) or multiple sclerosis, here's a stranger-than-fiction tale that may help you to a share in the proverbial pot of gold that's said to be at the foot of the rainbow.

Back in 1908, a German manufacturer commissioned a chemist, named Gelmo, to furnish a violet dye that wouldn't fade when his textiles were washed. Gelmo came up with what we now know as sulfanilamide, first of the miracle drugs.

In 1935, Dr. Domagk came across sulfanilamide in the course of a search for an anilin dye that had a stronger action on skin bacteria than the gentian voilet he and other doctors had used for many years to paint boils and related infections.

Out of Domagk's rediscovery of the forgotten dye, the whole science of anti-infective treatment was born.

But that's only the beginning of the story. With recognition of the lifesaving properties of the violet dye, chemists all over the world began making (synthesizing) other sulfa preparations. Among these sulfas aws one called tolbutamide.

Well, tolbutamide was a disappointment as a bug-killer. But someone noted that it lowered the blood sugar level of diabetic patients. And now, under the registered name of Orinase, it's used by scores of selected diabetics under strict medical supervision.

That brings us up to 1959 when a pair of Canadian physicians, Drs. J. L. and A. D. Cohen, found a high concentration of sugar (glucose) in the tissues of patients with severe acne. Since these patients had normal levels of blood sugar, the Cohens suggested that acne might be a manifestation of a "skin diabetes."

They cautiously administered tolbutamide to some of their patients with severe acne who had failed to respond to conventional methods of treatment. And they noted gratifying results.

Dr. Glen Thomas Sawyer of Minneapolis learned of the Canadian experience and was prompted "to use the drug for one of the young multiple sclerotic patients who had a severe acne of the back."

To his amazement, not only did the acne clear but the young man was able to leave bed and wheelchair and "walk well with a cane." Soon after, he was discharged.

Except for "a slight unsteadiness when attempting to walk rapidly," he was free from symptoms which, before treatment, included numbness of the hand, double vision and dizziness.

Don't miss the next episode in this medical "cliff-hanger" in a forthcoming column.

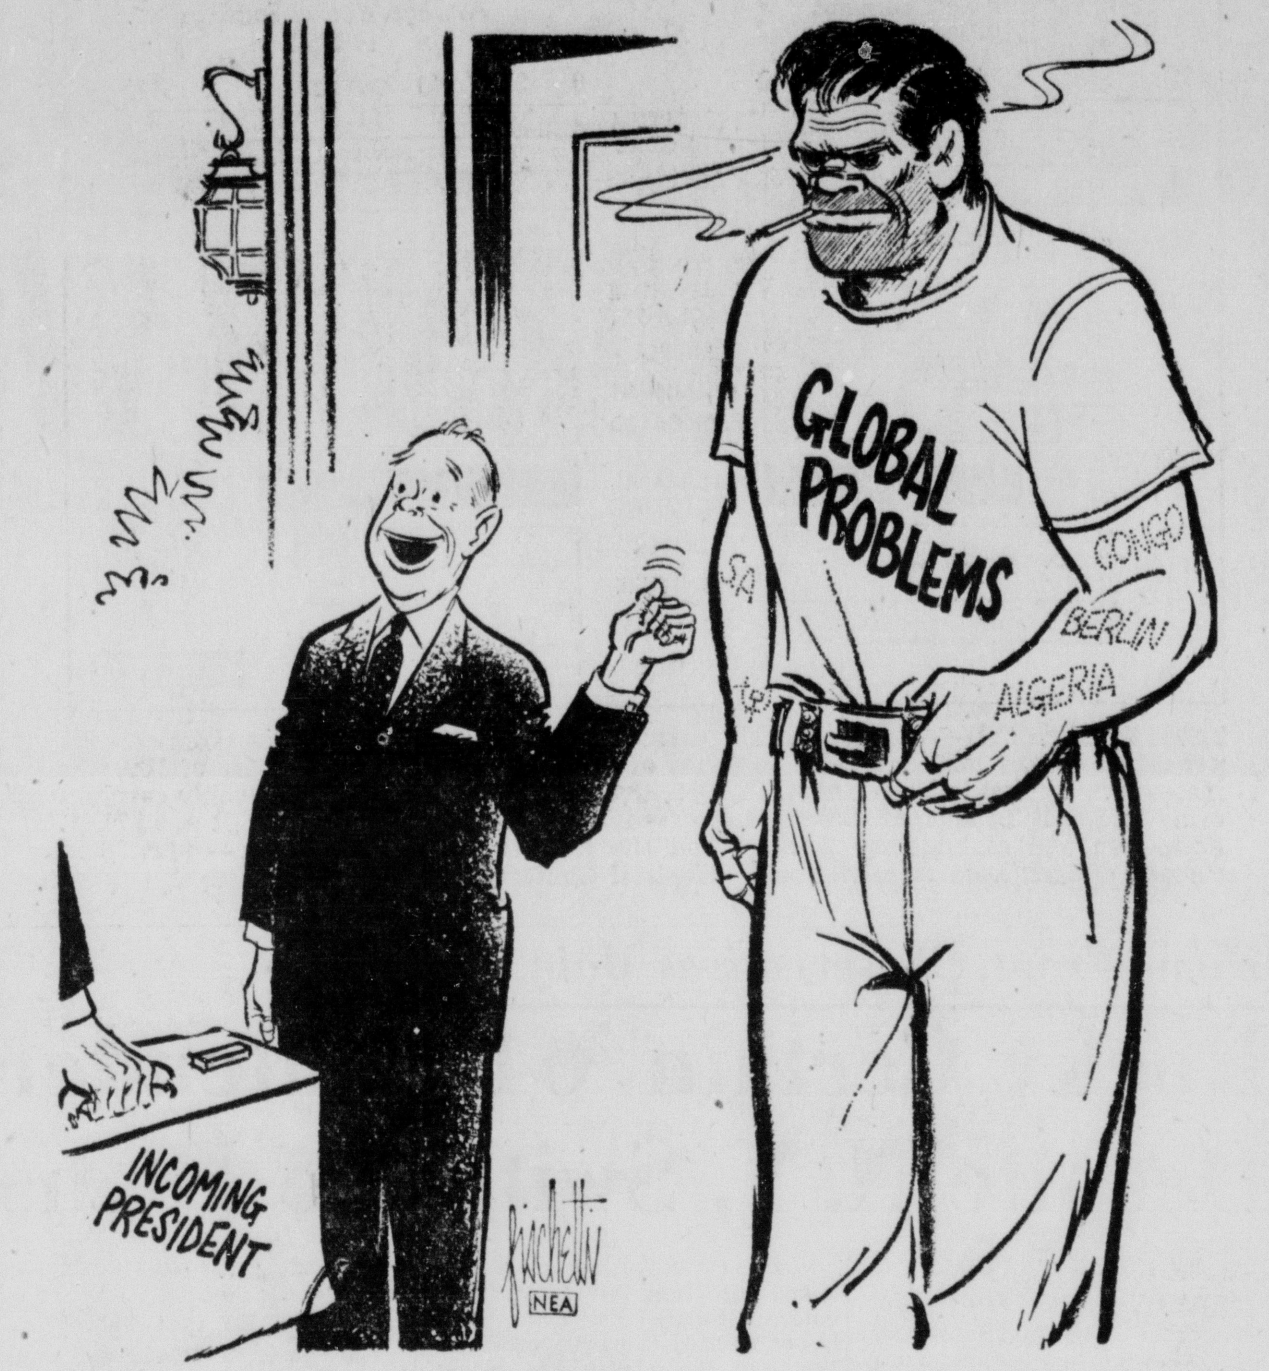
"Oh, Him? He Comes With the House"



Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — Fidel Castro's Cuba is already feeling the pinch of the U. S. government's trade boycott.

This is admitted by none other than Maj. Ernesto Guevara, director of the National Bank of Cuba and boss of the island's state-controlled Communistic economy.

Guevara and Cuban trade mission are expected to return soon from their trip to Russia and the satellite countries. They have been shopping for new sources of supply on imports received from the U. S. before the boycott.

JUST BEFORE Guevara left Cuba he delivered a long broadcast which reveals how seriously Cuba has been hit. Translation of a recording is cited as evidence of boycott effectiveness.

All imports into Cuba are now arranged through the Foreign Trade Bank ,a subsidiary of the National Bank, Guevara reveals. This is the usual pattern of Communist state trading. It conserves foreign exchange. It also insures that only essentials will be imported.

"We will be short many products," Guevara admits in his broadcast, and states, "Some industries will be paralyzed."

Guevara declares that the Foreign Trade Bank has arranged for imports of rice, lard, beans, other foods and consumer goods needed by the people every day. But there are still some shortages which cannot be overcome, he admits.

GUEVARA SAYS the entire trade structure of the country must be changed, to find and create new markets.

H blames this on the United States, first because of the cut in sugar purchases, then by the oil companies' refusal to refine Russian crude oil, finally by the boycott.

"Even if we can sell our sugar elsewhere, the price will fall," Guevara predicts, "and this will affect all sectors of the population."

Developing agriculture, says Guevara, will be easy. Industrialization will be difficult. Mistakes in agriculture can be corrected the next crop year. But mistakes in industry may be felt for 20 years and this will call for Cuban sacrifices.

He commends workers at a copper mine who recently lowered their own wages. He admits that only 2,000 new houses can be built next year, though the former rate was 10,000 a year. New units will be assigned to workers as prizes for productivity increases, says Guevara.

On Cuba's financial position, Guevara admits that. "The reserves are declining but I am not speaking fearfully. This has happened because the U. S. has stopped buying sugar. . . . While I am away the reserves will decline again, but this will not be my successor's fault. The year will end better than last year, but the figure will be around 100 million pesos."

Guevara says 70 per cent of the island's productive capacity is now under control of the government's industrialization department. He says it is planning construction of chemical and plup factories, but that these will cost 240 million pesos in imports and Cuba does not have the money for them now.

AFTER ADMITTING ALL THESE WEAKNESSES in the Cuban economy, Guevara declares that, "The boycott is ineffective as a weapon at this time. Some foods may be in short supply, also some raw materials—such as ammonia—for factories. But there is nothing to sweat about."

Introduction of smuggling to break the boycott is suggested by Guevara. He points out that when there was a boycott against Peron's government in the Argentine, it was able to survive by smuggling in "trainloads" of short supplies from friendly governments "motivated by the law of profit." He intimates Cuba might survive the same way.

Swing in Catholic Ballot Called Kennedy Plurality

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 — Anybody who tries to figure out what was the "mandate" of the election will find it difficult to defend his analysis. For about the only thing the election indicated is that the American people, dividing their votes about equally between the two nominees, gave no evidence of how they really feel about the various issues discussed in the campaign speeches.

Did they decide, for instance, by a narrow margin that one candidate was better looking or would have better judgment in the Presidency than the other? Did they decide that the Eisenhower policies were to be repudiated — that America was "standing still" and needed to "restore" its "prestige" abroad? Moscow naturally is rejoicing and claims the Eisenhower administration has been repudiated and that Sen. Kennedy will be "more reasonable."

The Religious Factor

Just what did decide the election? Nobody can prove his thesis absolutely, but it turns out that the pre-election polls were accurate in their forecast of the closeness of the vote. Hence, it is logical to believe that the polls were also accurate in diagnosing in advance the tremendous part the so-called "religious issue" played in the final voting.

This correspondent last week wrote that Sen. Kennedy's election was assured by reason of a shift of about 5,000,000 Catholics from their vote four years ago for the Republican ticket to the Democratic ticket this year. The forecast was based on the results of the Gallup Poll which showed that the Catholics, who had voted 51 per cent Democratic in 1956, would vote 79 per cent Democratic in 1960. No other religious group or minority bloc showed any such shift in the Gallup Poll.

Predictions Verified

It was easy enough to calculate the popular vote by subtracting this 5,000,000 from the Republicans and putting it in the Democratic column. Thus, in 1956 about 35,600,00 votes in all were cast for the Republican Presidential nominee, who won. Taking 5,000,000 away leaves 30,600,000. By adding this 5,000,000 to the Democratic total of about 26,000,000 of four years ago, the total this time would become 31,000,000. And that's just about how the contest shaped up this week.

Analyzing the results on the basis of the percentages predicted in the Gallup Poll on the Catholic vote, it is to be noted that, while Catholics gave Stevenson a margin of only 309,000 votes four years ago throughout the country, the Catholics are estimated—using the same percentages—to have given Kennedy a margin of 9,300,000 votes.

This shift helped Kennedy in the big states—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California—where the Catholic population is very large in number.

In New York State, for instance, with forty-five electoral votes, Catholic voters are estimated to have given the Democratic national ticket a margin of only 57,000 votes four years ago, but this time the margin of Catholics for Kennedy over Nixon was 1,700,000, and the state finally went by about 400,000 for Kennedy.

The Catholic margin in Pennsylvania for the Democrats this year was 1,100,000 as compared with a margin of only 35,000 for the Democratic ticket from the Catholic voters four years ago. In California, a 26,000 majority of the Catholic vote for Stevenson four years ago was transformed this year into a 600,000 majority for Kennedy.

Meaning of the Vote

In Illinois a 28,000 majority among the Catholics for the Democratic ticket in 1956 was changed in 1960 to a majority of almost 900,000 from Catholic voters for Kennedy. Thus the 847,000 margin for Eisenhower in the state was entirely erased.

If it was fated for a Roman Catholic to become President—and many people, including a large number of Protestants, felt that the precedent should be established sometime — it is too bad that it wasn't a landslide election so that America would appear before the world as having disregarded any religious factor and as having elected the better man decisively on his own qualifications or proposed policies.

It is apparent that there were many Protestant Democrats who switched to the Republican ticket this time because of religious prejudice, but the number was proportionately small, especially in the South, where loyalty to the Democratic Senators and Congressmen and the Democratic state and local organizations superseded any anti-Catholic influence. The Gallup Poll showed a shift of only 3 per cent among Protestants for the whole country away from the Republican ticket.

Religion Swung Election

The South, with its large bloc of electoral votes, could have changed the election result had there been an anti-Catholic vote of the proportions often predicted during the campaign. Instead, it cast its decisive votes for the Democrats, while in the North, especially in the states with big Catholic populations, at least 80 per cent of the Catholic voters supported Sen. Kennedy, making it possible for the first time in history for a Roman Catholic to become President. As was indicated in these dispatches last week, this factor, rather than any issue relating to public policy or qualifications for office, swung the American Presidential election of 1960.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The other day I was talking to Miss Emily Card in the Town of Esopus office about old time pharmacy, as both her father and my father were registered pharmacists and good friends. When we used to be waiting for Spinnenweber's bus to take us back to Kingston from Port Ewen, my father would stop in and chat with Mr. Card in his drug store. Miss Card is also a registered pharmacist.

We talked about the old fashioned cough drops, like rock candy and others not so pleasant. She also spoke of Job tears, (beads) which babies wore around their necks, and camphor squares which children wore in those days, for a cold. There was hot lemonade to drink. Everyone had his own favorite mixture to drink hot, including hot milk and butter, and it was all soothing and some nourishing.

In our time we did not eat up aspirin as is done in modern times. Children seldom took them. They were great believers in quinine, and for children there was chocolate quinine syrup, you took that and it tasted pretty good at first and then the bitter quinine taste hit you and stayed with you for a long time. There was powdered mustard some used dry in their stockings, some used it in a hot mustard bath to put their feet in. A compress around the throat was used for a sore-throat. There were various inhalers, usually made of glass and some of metal. These could be opened and used for a headache by rubbing on your forehead. White pine and tar cough syrups were popular for children.

I met young John F. Spinnenweber, the contractor, builder and real estate man, the other day in Rondout. He is the son of Fred, who used to run the only bus line, as far as I know from Rondout to Port Ewen. I knew John when he was a little boy, now he is about 6 foot tall and very enthusiastic about Port Ewen's future. We both know its past very well.

Mr. Spinnenweber said, remember when our buses used to go down Sleightsburgh hill, and over the Skillypot and take everyone shopping and for other needs to Rondout. At that time Rondout had everything, doctors, dentists, lawyers, and all kinds of stores and movies of course.

Then everyone started moving uptown, all the various businesses and banks, and professional men, so the folks from Port Ewen had to travel all the way uptown, now Port Ewen is self sufficient. They have everything they need right over there, doctors, lawyers, dentists, drugstores, hardware stores, liquor stores, bank, school and a big shopping center and several grocery and general stores, and of course and more lovely private homes.

Many of the other towns and villages around and about Kingston have grown likewise and become self-sufficient and independent of Kingston, at one time known as the hub. Now that the houses in Port Ewen have official numbers it would be a good idea to have some sort of Port Ewen Directory listing all of them. Kingston has had a directory published yearly for perhaps a hundred years. It is very handy and interesting years later.

So They Say..

The most pressing problem of the next decade is to find a substitute for the threat of war as an instrument of national policy . . . For if mankind is to survive, a new basis for diplomacy must be evolved, and . . . America must lead the way.

Patient Service Plans for Paltz Home Discussed

The development of a committee for coordinating patient services for folks at the Ulster County Infirmary and Home, New Paltz was the topic of a lively discussion at a largely attended meeting last week at St. Joseph's Hall, New Paltz.

Forty-five organizations were represented or had indicated interest in this project. Many individuals also indicated their interest. Alfred Schreiber, member of the New Paltz Jaycees presided at the meeting.

Hear Welfare Report

Ulster County Commissioner of Welfare, Joseph Fitzsimmons, and Miss Rose Marie Feeney, RN, medical social worker with the Department of Welfare, told of the services at the Ulster County institutions in New Paltz and Kingston.

Miss Feeney praised community interest in the Infirmary and Home. She also expressed appreciation on behalf of the welfare agency and staff at the institution for the many services rendered in the past for folks at the home. Many area organizations and individuals have helped make holiday seasons pleasant, and a number of ministers have shared in having weekly religious services. New Paltz Jayncees, the New Paltz "Christmas Committee," Mrs. Jerome Hurd and Mrs. Frank Elliot, have given year-round services for some time.

Miss Feeney told of the growth in the past two years in the program at the Infirmary in Kingston where occupational therapy and physical therapy have been instituted in addition to a year-round program of services under the Rehabilitation Committee, sponsored by Ulster County TB and Health Association.

Volunteers Are Needed

Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director of Health Association emphasized the importance of services given by volunteers. She said the development of a committee to coordinate the efforts and interests of many people will open numerous avenues of services not here-to-fore possible. Miss Steed indicated the board of directors of the Health Association had approved the request by the Department of Welfare for assistance in organizing the patient services committee.

She said, "Everyone wishing to participate is most welcome. In addition to those who have been serving, we have sought names and suggestions from leaders in the Towns of New Paltz, Gardiner, Lloyd, Plattekill, Shawangunk, Marlboro and Wawarsing and the response is very gratifying."

A second meeting was planned for Friday, Nov. 18, at 8:15 p. m. in St. Joseph's Hall, New Paltz. A committee was named to develop plans for future meetings, and to work on an outline of committee structure and operation.

Those asked to serve were: Mrs. Jerome Hurd, Mrs. Thomas P. Benenati, the Rev. Joseph W. Hickey, Richard Culver and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schreiber of New Paltz; Mrs. Dorothy Greer of Walker Valley and Mrs. Elizabeth Raymond of Highland. Mrs. Marion Ackert, RN, nurse in charge at New Paltz Infirmary, Miss Fenney, and Miss Steed will also serve with this group.

Plan Yule Activities

Activities and services for the Christmas season were discussed at last Friday's meeting. Mrs. Elliot and Edgar Beebe, speaking for New Paltz Christmas Committee, said that group will provide gifts for the patients and will carry on as in the past for Christmas, and other groups indicated their intention to assist with traditional Christmas giving.

At the meeting planned for November 18, the agenda will include planning of a holiday season calendar of activities so that individuals and groups may clear dates and hours as they plan their contribution for patients and residents at the New Paltz institution.

Second Free Movie Slated Saturday By Hurley Vols

The Hurley Volunteer firemen have scheduled a second free movie for Saturday at 7 p. m. in the fire hall.

The show will start with 30 minutes of cartoons followed by the full-length main feature, "Toy Tiger" starring Jeff Chandler and Larine Day.

The story behind "Toy Tiger" concerns a seven-year-old imp who has a trusting mother and a "make believe" father . . . until that riotous day he needed a daddy in the worst way . . . so he picked one out.

At the firemen's monthly meeting held November 7, it was reported that the first movie was well received by over 115 adults and children. In view of this the men appropriated $250 to Chairman Charles Goble for rental of future films and continuation of the program. Also serving on this committee are Chester Dolson Jr., Eugene Hannay and Paul McGuire.

The firemen extend a sincere welcome to all Hurleyites and hope they will continue to avail themselves of these free movie programs.

Plan Nuclear Fallout Shelter For Local Armory

The construction of nuclear fallout shelters at state military installations, including one in Kingston, will begin within the next few weeks, Major General A. C. O'Hara, chief of staff to the governor announced today.

The New York National Guard Armory, North Manor Avenue was included on a list of 20 installations to be constructed at an estimated cost of $52,000.

Located in Basement

The shelter at the local armory will be located in the basement and requires installation of an auxiliary lighting and ventilation system and two inside walls.

Funds for the installations have been released by the New York State Division of the Budget from Civil Defense supplemental budget for this purpose.

While the consideration for this construction is purely military, the program has the full support of Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller who has long advocated such protection.

As added impetus to commencement of this construction, General O'Hara cited recent Department of Defense directives which state in part:

Asks for Support

"All officials in the Department of Defense should support fully the National Shelter Program, not only as a means of assuring the continued existence of this country, but also as a means of providing better assurance that our military mission can be performed if we are ever subjected to an attack. Maximum use will be made of all suitable existing components, such as reinforced buildings, basement areas, magazines and gun emplacements, in providing fallout protection."

The fallout shelters in each armory will be designed to accommodate 80 per cent of the combat strength of the troops assigned to the installation.

"The fallout shelters are designed to reduce the radiation to one per cent or less of outside radiation."

General O'Hara stated: "Emergency power ventilation, air filtering equipment, water storage tanks, sanitary facilities, emergency electrical circuits, will be standard equipment." Emergency rations, medical supplies and detection equipment may be provided at a later date.

Plan New Construction

In addition to plans for fallout shelters in existing facilities, all new armory construction will include 'fallout" shelter protection.

Preliminary engineering surveys have been conducted in all 94 armories throughout the state by the Division of Military and Naval Affairs. All will be equipped with fallout shelters as funds are made available.

Wyatt Book Asked By President-Elect

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt will have an indirect hand in President-elect John F. Kennedy's pre-inauguration program.

Wyatt said Wednesday that a Kennedy aide has asked for a copy of a book Wyatt wrote in 1956 at the request of Adlai Stevenson. Wyatt was Stevenson's campaign manager in 1952 and his personal advisor in 1956.

The book recommends times and methods for selecting aides, handling budget and foreign-military affairs, and other matters in the three-month period between the election of a president and his inauguration.

Survives Ambush

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A second U.N. soldier has survived the rebel ambush of an 11-man Irish patrol.

The second survivor was found Wednesday night near the scene of the ambush in north Katanga Province, a U.N. spokesman announced. Apparently he was wounded, but not badly.

The spokesman also reported recovery of a mutilated body in dense bush near the scene.

It was the fifth body found since the attack Tuesday.

500 Greet Nixons On Capital Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several universities, law firms and corporations already have offered positions to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, an aide says.

But his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Wednesday night he had absolutely no idea what Nixon plans to do after leaving the vice presidency next Jan. 20.

There was no immediate word on any possibility of his remaining in politics.

The Nixons were cheered Wednesday night by a crowd of about 500 when they returned by jet airliner from California. With the vice president and his wife were their two daughters, Tricia, 14, and Julie, 12.

For Nixon, it was the end of a 64,000-mile quest for the presidency in which the grand prize had gone to Democrat John F. Kennedy.

In the airport crowd greeting the Nixons were Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, son of the President, and his wife, Barbara. The President had left during the the day for a golfing vacation in Augusta, Ga.

Nixon told the greeters that the airport turnout was, "the nicest thing that's happened to us in the whole campaign." Mrs. Nixon nodded agreement and the crowd applauded.

Newsmen aboard the plane did not have an opportunity to question the vice president about his future plans, or anything else. But Klein said Nixon had received quite a sheaf of telegrams offering him positions before he left Los Angeles.

Klein said he knew nothing about Nixon's plans for the next few days, but speculated that the Nixons probably would want to get away soon for a vacation.

191,000 Gain In Jobless Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped by 191,000 in October although the idle rate normally declines in the fall. Employment dropped by 277,000.

When the figures were released at the Labor Department, a government spokesman acknowledged in response to questions that the report could have been announced before Tuesday's election.

Some Democratic partisans had contended the administration was holding up an unfavorable employment report for political reasons.

Seymour Wolfbein, the Labor Department's manpower chief, said that the over-all employment-unemployment data was available around the first of every month.

But he said it was the usual procedure to hold up the figures until supplemental data was available.

The October report showed that unemployment rose by 191,000, increasing from 3,388,000 in September to 3,579,000. The idle figure usually declines by around 200,000 in October.

This contra-seasonal climb in unemployment sent the seasonally adjusted employed rate from 5.7 per cent in September to 6.4 per cent in October. This is the highest such rate of the idle in proportion to the total work force since December, 1958.

Employment declined from 67,767,000 to 67,490,00p. October usually brings a seasonal increase of about 400,000 jobs.

The number of long-term unemployed, those idle 15 weeks or longer, rose to nearly one million.

For many months, the figure on long-term unemployment has been at around 800,000.

Called Significant

Wolfbein, asked whether he thought the October job report looked "ominous," said he liked to shy away from such an expression, but considered the worsening job picture as "significant."

Wolfbein said that underlying the unemployment problem is some slackness in business activity and in failure of steel production to increase from its present rate of little more than 50 per cent of capacity.

The job report showed an increase in the factory work week in October from 39.5 to 39.6 hours. This was a somewhat favorable sign, halting a decline of recent months.

There was a sharp rise in auto workers' work hours because of 1961 model production.

Average weekly earnings of factory workers increased by 63 cents to an October record of $91.48. Hourly earnings averaged a cent higher at a record $2.31.

Wolfbein said if the present rate of unemployment continues that the idle total will probably continue to climb in November and December and reach around 5,250,000 in January and February.

Wolfbein declined to answer directly questions as to whether the nation is now in a recession, or headed into one.

6-Month Rise

He said from charts on his wall anyone could see that the idle rate has been going up for about six months.

The October report showed that the number of workers on factory payrolls fell by 165,000, a drop greater than seasonal because of declines in the steel industry and clothing and machinery industries.

Farm employment declined by over 300,000 but this was largely an expected situation.

SIX INTO ONE—The European Common Market; now in operation for over a year and a half, is profiled in Newsmap. It is an economic unit formed by a pooling of resources and lowering of tariffs on the part of Germany, Belgium. France, Luxembourg, Italy and the Netherlands. The land area of the six nations is barely one-eighth that of the United States and one-sixteenth of the U.S.S.R. But by uniting, they not only add up their strengths but multiply their potentials. With nearly 170 million consumers, they constitute a market on a huge scale that may revitalize the role of Europe in the world.

FIDO - THE WONDER DOG

The world a dog sees would look very strange to us. Dogs are color-blind. Yet, their eyes are amazingly quick. Those "educated" stage dogs who bark answers to arithmetic problems are responding to movements in their trainers' jaws or hands—which the human eye is too slow to see.

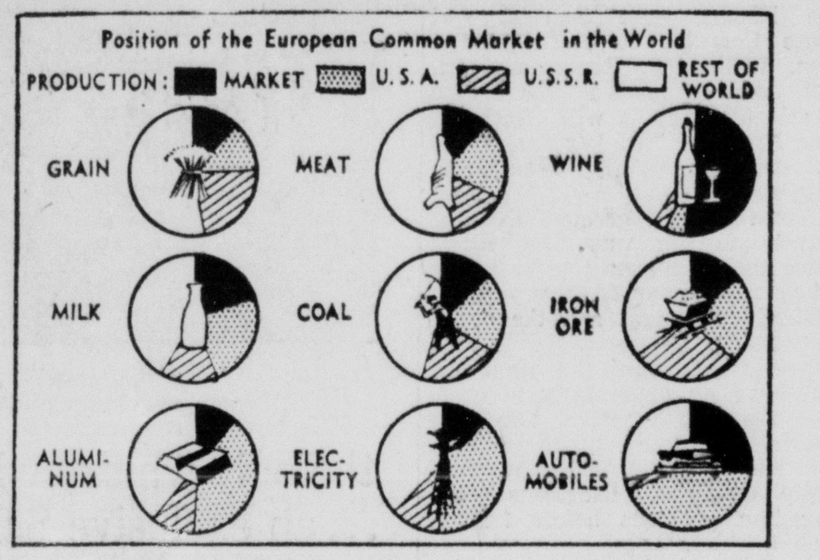
THE THREE GIANTS—Since forming the European Common Market, the six nations of West Germany, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy have emerged as a third great world market and producer. Human potential of the combined Market countries is compared with that of the Soviet Union in chart above. Production of steel, one of the modern world's most vital needs, is also shown.



EUROPE AND THE WORLD — By joining their resources and production, six European nations (France, West Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy) in the Common Market constitute an important source of the world's goods. Chart above compares the Market with the United States, Russia and the rest of the world in nine categories.

Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of our dear brother, Frederick W. Sleight, who passed away 3 years ago, November 9, 1957.

Those whom we love go out of sight
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The experts and the analysts will be working over Tuesday's presidential vote for days and weeks to come and evaluating the influence of television on politics.

Whatever their conclusions, it is obvious that never before have so many people staved up for so many hours glued to their television sets as the returns rolled into sight on the home screens. Thousands staggered off to work Wednesday morning without having gone to bed at all. "I just couldn't seem to turn off the darned set," complained any number of baggy-eyed, weary citizens.

Those who managed to keep their eyes open past 3 a.m. were rewarded with one of the most dramatic moments of the long night of mounting voting returns. That was when Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his wife stepped before the cameras and he—with a determined smile and great poise—delivered his conditional concession. He handled himself very well and won much admiration. But every woman watching Pat Nixon could identify herself with this tired woman at her husband's side, trying — and failing—to conceal her disappointment—even heartbreak.

Not long after midnight, NBC publicists telephoned around triumphantly to report that a quick survey by the American Research Bureau showed that early evening coverage by its team was getting the lion's share of the home audience—almost half. CBS came second and ABC third.

This viewer, watching the competition on three TV sets, thought that in terms of quality, production values and understandability, it was a tie between CBS and NBC.

Five programs new this season have popped into the top 20 shows on the most recent Nielsen ratings list: "Checkmate" (No. 10); "Andy Griffith Show" (11); "The Tall Man" (15); "My Three Sons" (18), and "Candid Camera" (20). And "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" managed to change networks and time period ad still stay in the winners' circle—in 19th place.

No one could handle the Culbertson 4-5 no-trump quite as well as the maestro himself when playing as the partner of his wife, Josephine.

Jo's jump to four spades showed just what it would today — tremendous distribution and not much in high cards. Ely rather expected Jo to sign off with five spades after he asked for aces, but instead Jo showed the ace of diamonds with her five diamond bid. This enabled Ely to bid seven spades with complete confidence.

There may be other ways to reach seven, but this was sure and easy.

As stated yesterday, the Culbertson 4-5 no-trump was just a trifle complicated for the ordinary player and most experts did not like it because it could only be used by the strong hand and not always then. Meanwhile a new slam convention appeared in Indianapolis and spread rapidly through the West.

It was called Blackwood and was both effective and simple. The Eastern experts held out against it for a long while, but eventually swam with the tide and today Blackwood is universally known and almost universally used.

Soviet Assails U.S. Stand on Congo Committee

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today accused the United States of trying to undermine the efforts of a new U.N. conciliation committee which has been set up to seek a solution to the political conflict in the Congo.

The charge was contained in a Soviet delegation statement issued as U.S. Delegate James W. Barco appealed to the General Assembly's nine-nation credentials committee to act now to seat a delegation headed by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu.

Reds Back Lumumba

The Soviet Union is backing a rival delegation representing deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

The Soviet statement asserted that the United States is trying to railroad a decision on the Kasavubu delegation with the aim of disrupting a normal solution of the Congo problem and "undermining the forthcoming work of the conciliation committee of Afro-Asian countries set up in accordance with a decision of the fourth extraordinary session of the General Assembly."

The assembly Wednesday suspended its debate on the Congo question idefinitely.

Kasavubu, who arrived in New York earlier this week to take part in the debate, sent U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold a note accusing Ghana of "spreading irresponsible and false allegations" about the Congo situation.

Reply to Ghana's Role

His note was a reply to Ghana's role in transmitting messages from Congolese parliamentary leaders challenging Kasavubu's right to speak for the Congo at the United Nations. He called Ghana's action unfriendly and discourteous.

Kasavubu also asserted that Joseph Okito, one of the parliamentary leaders, was not president of the Senate as he claimed.

Ghana and Guinea, supported by the Soviet bloc, pushed through a surprise motion to hold up the Congo debate at Wednesday's assembly session. Ghana ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey urged postponement until a 15-member Asian-African commission makes an attempt to resolve the differences between the rival Congolese politicians. The commission is expected to leave for the Congo next week.

Vote Delay Loses

Nigeria's Jaja Wachuku, supporting the Ghana motion, contended "any debate and mudslinging here will result only in making the work of that commission impossible."

The United States tried unsuccessfully to delay a vote on the Ghana motion but it was carried 48-30, with 18 abstentions.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said later that the Congo debate can be reopened at any time. But he said the United States has not decided whether it would make such a move.

At one point in Wednesday's debate, Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny was interrupted by desk thumping from the Communist and Ghanaian delegations. It was the first such display since Soviet Premier Khrushchev left the assembly.

Communist . . .

the tremendous task ahead of checking Communist advances and said the Free World hopes Kennedy "will be able to turn the tide."

Cuba's government-controlled press gave the expected secondary—and acid—treatment to the election. La Calle, referring to Kennedy and Nixon, said one candidate was "as much a bandit as the other."

But many Latin-American newspapers expressed the hope a new administration would give more attention to their national problems. Mexico City's Diario de la Tarde said Latin America expects a sort of Marshall Plan.

The Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, who had favored Vice President Nixon for his stand on Quemoy and Matsu, put on a brave face at the Kennedy election. President Chiang Kai-shek and other officials sent congratulations, and Formosa newspapers said no basic change in America's China policy would result.

Japan's multimillion-circulation dailies expressed hope for new energy and flexibility in Washington. Asahi, the largest, said the Kennedy victory was recognition of the need to "re-establish America's international leadership on a new foundation."

The election results were received indifferently in much of the Middle East.

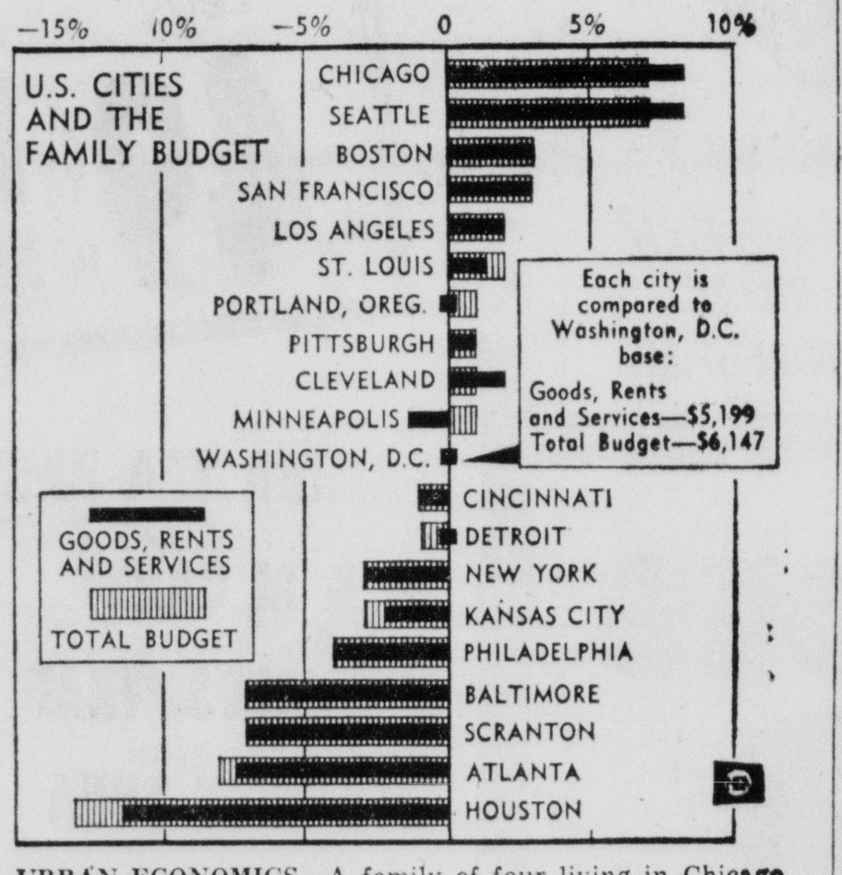
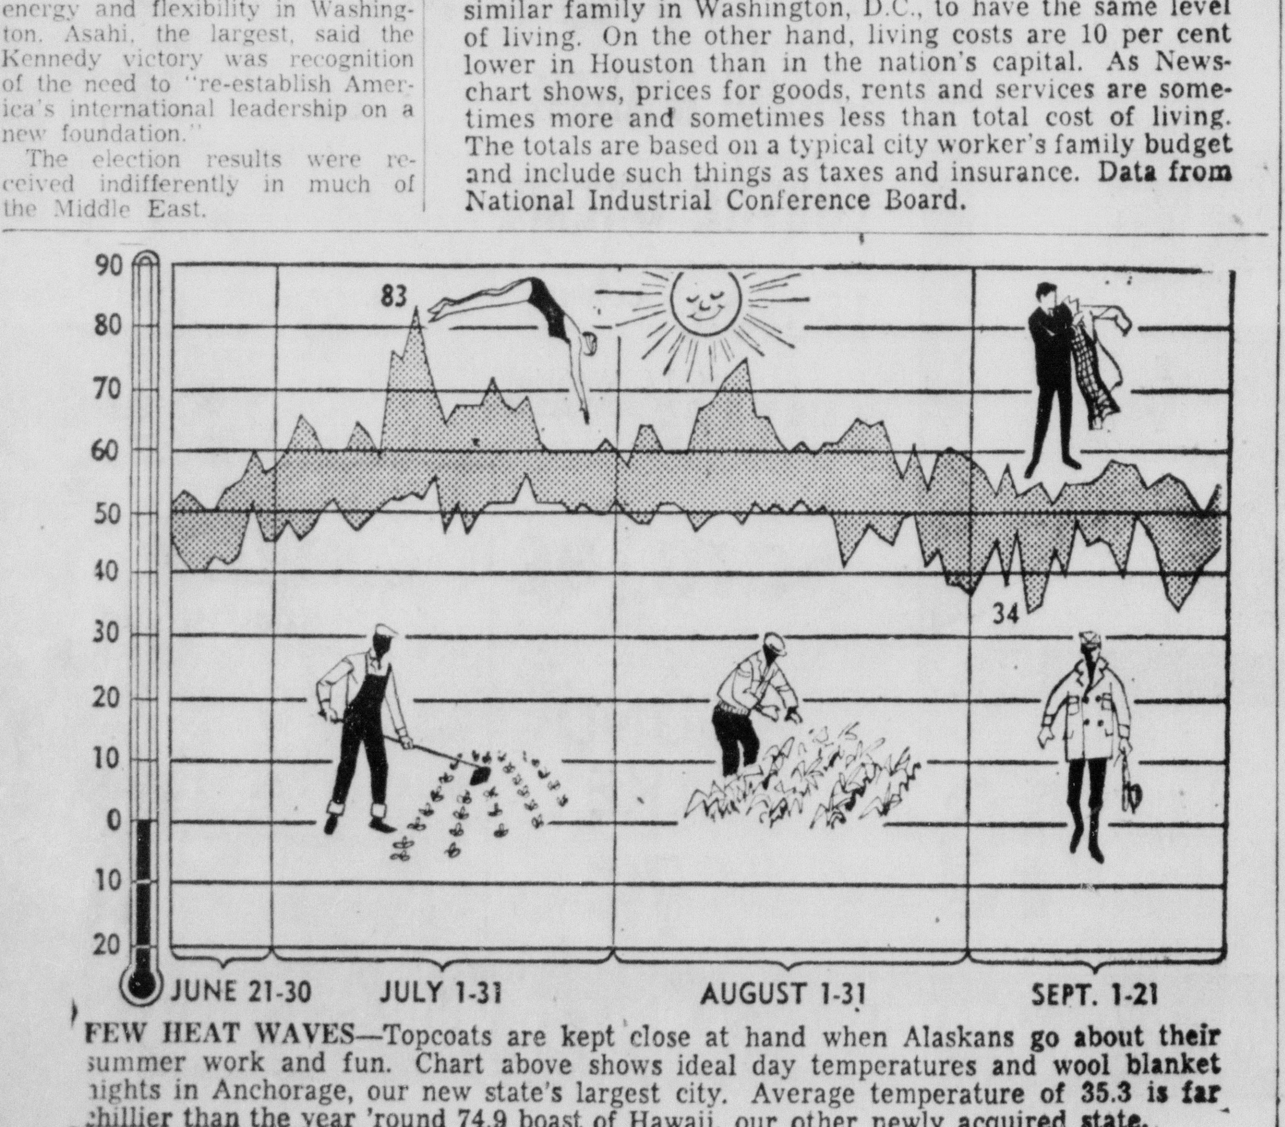
FARM AID COSTS UP—The 1950-60 decade has seen the cost of the government's farm program spiraling. Newschart above shows that from a low of one billion dollars annually, expenditures have mounted until in 1959 they reached an all-time peak of 6.5 billions. Costs receded somewhat in 1960 but started climbing again in fiscal 1961. Source: Department of Agriculture.



URBAN ECONOMICS—A family of four living in Chicago or Seattle must spend better than 5 per cent more than a similar family in Washington, D.C., to have the same level of living. On the other hand, living costs are 10 per cent lower in Houston than in the nation's capital. As Newschart shows, prices for goods, rents and services are sometimes more and sometimes less than total cost of living. The totals are based on a typical city worker's family budget and include such things as taxes and insurance. Data from National Industrial Conference Board.



FEW HEAT WAVES—Topcoats are kept close at hand when Alaskans go about their summer work and fun. Chart above shows ideal day temperatures and wool blanket nights in Anchorage, our new state's largest city. Average temperature of 35.3 is far chillier than the year 'round 74.9 boast of Hawaii, our other newly acquired state.

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market churned ahead in an irregular advance early this afternoon. Trading moderated after an active start.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .50 at 212.90 with the industrials up .80, the rails up .70 and the utilities down .10.

Gains of key stocks outbalanced losers. The advances ran from fractions to a point or 2 with losers moving in the same range.

The thin margin of Sen. John F. Kennedy's election as president was seen as a restraint against any drastic economic changes which might hurt business and therefore was reassuring to Wall Street.

Aircrafts, steels, chemicals, rails, building materials, retail-mail orders and electronics helped the advance. Autos and utilities were unchanged to lower, oils narrowly mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.59 at 603.84.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Two Teeners Get

Avenue near Washington early last night on warrents executed by Detective Charles McCullough and Special Officer Ralph Countryman.

Arrest of the two was delayed, it was noted, because of an investigation, which included analysis of the powder and other contents of the explosives, conducted through cooperation of Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen.

Had Dangerous Fuses

Some five or six of the confiscated homemade "firecrackers," were exploded, police said, and one blew a hole through a tin can. They were made mostly of copper tubing, but one was made of a cigarette lighter. Police said black powder was used and the units had dangerously short or quick fuses.

Detective McCullough and Officer Countryman learned of the explosives when they investigated the reported tossing of badly decomposed eggs on Hurley Avenue during a Halloween tour of the two.

Two counts each were listed in the explosive charges against the two. City Judge Klein imposed a suspended sentence of a year in jail on each count to run concurrently for each defendant, and placed each on probation for a period not to exceed three years.

Board Discusses

pany officials and a real estate agent attended. It was noted that the company's option on the properties is due to expire Nov. 26.

The mayor and board members emphasized the city's policy of curtailment of large sections of curb. It asks that not more than 10 feet, as in residential areas, be removed.

Removal of parking meters along with curb was emphasized along with the danger to pedestrians which was stressed by David L. Fletcher, spokesman for the Central Business Men's Association.

Decision Reserved

The board reserved decision after the discussion and left the problem with the mayor, Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly and City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan.

The Ingalls property has been a city landmark during two centuries. A zoning board ruling was required to redesignate a section as business property. A petition to have this done met with opposition from residents of the area and others, but the zoning board advised that it could rule only for or against a business classification, and upon determining the latter it was not empowered to decide as to the type of business to be conducted.

Civil War Hero

parts of the county began arriving as early as 9 a. m., coming here on foot or by horse and wagon, and other visitors arrived aboard steamers and yachts plying the Hudson River.

Date Was Oct. 22, 1890

The starting point for the parade on Oct. 22, 1890, which preceded the dedication of the Soldiers and Sailors monument, was situated on The Strand and was the headquarters of General Grant Post 566, Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New York. In front of this place a large banner was stretched across The Strand signifying the G. A. R. Post headquarters.

The Freeman article published on the day of the monument dedication read in part, "The headquarters of Gen. Grant Post on The Strand presented a lively and animated scene all day. Early in the morning veterans began to arrive and were received by local veterans. At noon the Post and guests marched to Washington Hall, then on Abeel Street, where dinner was served.

Parade Through City

"Decorations were general throughout the city and large crowds lined the streets through which the parade passed. Colonel John S. McEntee was grand marshal of the procession which included delegations from Kingston, Catskill, Newburgh, Beacon (then Mattewan), Poughkeepsie and Highland.

"The line of march was from The Strand to Union Avenue (now Broadway) to Delaware Avenue, to Hasbrouck Avenue, to The Strand, to Union Avenue, to Albany Avenue, to Clinton Avenue, to North Front Street, to Wall Street, to Main Street, to Clinton Avenue, to Henry Street, to Union Avenue, to City Hall. The parade passed the Mansion House at 2:15 o'clock and consisted of 1,200 marchers, with city and other officials in carriages and on horseback."

An interesting program marked the day's observance at City Hall, where the monument was delivered by Supervisor William T. Van Tassell of the building unit of the general committee. The acceptance speech was delivered by John Maxwell, chairman of the general committee.

The response and dedication was by Josiah J. Hasbrouck, then chairman of the County Board of Supervisors. The oration of the day was by General George H. Sharpe, who turned the monument over to the city. Mayor John E. Kraft accepted the memorial on behalf of the city.

The city historian noted that badges containing a picture of the monument were sold in large numbers, with Gus Raschke, of 29 Shufeldt Street, a retired letter carrier, who in 1890 resided near the City Hall, taking part in the sale of badges.

After the dedication and unveiling, dinners, dances and band concerts helped make the day a memorable one, Sullivan said.

The inscription on the monument is "to the soldiers and sailors of the County of Ulster in the War for the Union 1861-1865 — Their Grateful Fellow Citizens."

Master of ceremonies for the service at Academy Green tomorrow night will be William F. Edelmuth, former mayor. The Rev. Clarence E. Brown, chaplain of Kingston Post 150, American Legion will deliver the invocation. The evening program will begin with a 15-minute concert by Michael Marchuk's Orchestra from Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, playing through the courtesy of the transcription fund.

Sidney Lane, newly elected chairman of Kingston Veterans Association and commander of Kingston Composite Squadron Civil Air Patrol, will deliver an address, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Connolly, pastor of St. Philomena's Church, Town of Ulster, also will speak. Legion Post 150 will provide the firing squad for the volley salute, and taps will close the service.

Trends of Fickle Fashion Boost Cosmetics Business

Q) "What do you think of the cosmetics stocks? Which would you purchase?" M.L.

A) Among the 52 stock groups that I chart and follow closely, Cosmetics has been one of the few really good ones this year from the standpoint of relative action. The group has not only acted relatively better than the market as a whole, but in mid-September reached an all-time high, when most other groups and the Dow-Jones Industrial Average were off sharply.

The action of the cosmetics list again proves that by confining your purchases to the best acting groups, it is possible to make profits even under the poorest of general market conditions.

Cosmetic stocks have recently come down a little in price, and the better ones look decidedly attractive. The experience of many cosmetic firms in 1958 indicates that the sale of toiletries is virtually recession proof. Also, such exotic items as eye shadow are coming into wide acceptance, and teen-agers are dipping into cosmetic containers more and more. (I am not prepared to defend the wisdom of these developments, but they are creating an ever-broadening market for the industry!)

My personal choice for future price appreciation is Avon Products (OTC) whose growth formula consists of aggressive management and door-to-door selling. Avon recently reported a 30 per cent increase in earnings for the third quarter of 1960.

Q) "Do you work for a brokerage firm? I think I need a new firm to deal with that will have my interests at heart." R.W.

A) I am grateful to you for an implied compliment. I am not a broker, and I have no association with any brokerage house. My only business is advising people on the investment of their funds. If you are not satisfied with your broker, by all means change. But don't be too quick about it. Sometimes market conditions or your own failure to make your objective plain may be responsible for your dissatisfaction.

DeSapio Accepts

the party...and if it's a war they want, they shall have it..."

DeSapio said Lehman, who supported Adlai E. Stevenson for the party's presidential nomination, "was probably the most active and impassioned man at the convention in Los Angeles in opposition to the nomination of Sen. Kennedy." DeSapio accused Lehman of "apparent hypocrisy."

Charges Deal With GOP

DeSapio said Rose had engineered a deal with state Republican leaders whereby the Liberal Party exchanged help for Republican judicial and legislative candidates for 'a law which perpetuates his patronage-seeking, power-grasping and highly un-liberal political hybrid."

The Tammany Hall leader took exception to claims by Rose and other leaders of the Liberal Party, which exists only in New York State, that the party assured Kennedy's victory in the state. Liberal State Chairman Paul R. Hays said the party's vote, estimated at 400,000 on the basis of incomplete returns, was almost equal to Kennedy's 404,000-odd majority in the state.

Wagner Ready to Act

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, when told of DeSapio's statement, said: 'As the leader of the Democratic Party in New York City, I will have a great deal to say about the future of the party here. I am going to really assert my leadership."

The mayor said he planned to have a talk with Lehman "and others" on the party's future.

Wagner has been attempting for more than a year to act as peacemaker between the regular party organization and the insurgent group.

State comptroller Arthur Levitt, still unaware of DeSapio's statement, issued an appeal Wednesday night to Democrats to close ranks in the state.

Levitt, the only Democrat holding statewide elective office, said the inability of Gov. Rockefeller to carry New York State for the Republican presidential ticket might lessen his effect as party leader. Also, Levitt said, it might result in a struggle for leadership among Rockefeller, Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo and Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino of Long Beach.

No Kennedy . . .

sumably an acceptance of Eisenhower's offer—would be released as soon as it is received sometime during the day.

Hagerty said he had told Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press representative, in a telephone conversation this morning that he was going ahead with his plan to make public the President's message. Hagerty said he did not know the reason for Kennedy's delay.

Urges Consultation

In urging advance consultation on foreign policy, Eisenhower told Kennedy: "The secretary of state will be prepared for meetings to provide information on foreign policy activities on which there will be special need for continuity after you shall have had the opportunity, after inauguration, to arrange these matters to your satisfaction."

The President is known to be especially anxious to keep Kennedy up to date on all developments involving the future of Berlin, disarmament and a possible East-West summit conference.

Eisenhower also hoped that Kennedy would name his secretary of state within a few weeks so that he could work with Herter in the days before the Democrats take over the government.

Ike to Keep Reigns

Eisenhower already has directed his 10-man team of Cabinet officers, plus the heads of 20 key agencies, to cooperate closely with Kennedy's official staff.

In the 71 days remaining before Kennedy becomes president, however, his men will not join in policy making. Hagerty said Eisenhower intends to remain fully responsible for all decisions until the moment Kennedy is sworn in.

Plan New Paltz

elementary school population.

Mrs. John H. Jacobson, a member of the school board, said that since the population growth study was made, the rate of growth in the New Paltz and Gardiner district has increased even more, and the board planned the two eight room schools so that they could easily be enlarged a few rooms at a time as the needs developed without the necessity of another bond issue.

Mrs. Jacobson said that the last addition of four rooms to the present school was made under a similar plan and has proved highly satisfactory.

The sites favored by the board for the two schools are located near the centers of child population outside the village of New Paltz. One site is just north of the American Legion hall on Route 208.

Mrs. Jacobson said that in addition to the financial saving involved under the plan, by which as many as 32 new classrooms may be supplied with the cost of only one bond issue, the school board and school administrators agree that the plan is good educationally.

A school board spokesman said the board and school administrators favor school sites in areas where it will not be necessary for children to spend long hours on the bus when he should be studying or enjoying outdoor play, and where it will be easy for parents and school faculty members to work together for the good of the child.

Architects chosen to draw plans and make specifications for the proposed schools are Flemming and Silverman of Newburgh, whose preliminary plans have been approved by the State Education Department. The architects are presently working on plans for schools at Vail's Gate and in the Monroe-Woodbury School District.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The West German Federal Bank today lowered the bank rate from 5 to 4 per cent, effective Friday.

The action, suggested at the last World Bank meeting in Washington, was taken in an attempt to stop the excessive flow of foreign currency into Germany because of high interest rates.

The story of the origin of life and of man eventually comes to one question: "How did the world itself come to be?"

The great 18th-century French astronomer Laplace theorized that the planets were thrown off by a rapidly rotating sun. But mathematics has shown this to be impossible. Laplace's older countryman, the naturalist Count Buffon, thought a comet may have passed close to the sun, drawing out material that formed the planets.

In the 20th-century, the American geologist Thomas Chamberlain substituted a passing star for the comet. He believed that the planets began as bits of matter called "planetesimals." The planets formed cold, later heating up through pressure and radioactivity.

Modern thinking has kept the idea of cold planetesimals but rejected the theory of a collision or near collision with another star. The planets contain different proportions of the elements than the sun and therefore could not have been formed from matter torn out of it.

Most scientists today agree that both sun and planets condensed at the same time from a cloud of hydrogen and other particles. The way it happened has to do with the behavior of ionized (electrified) gases and magnetic fields. Not a few astronomers believe that most stars similar to our sun have a family of planets. And the chances are that many of these planets are in the right position with respect to their suns to allow life to gain a foothold.

The moon may hold clues to how our solar system began, because that body is relatively unchanged since its creation. A series of "Ranger" rockets is planned to be sent to the moon in 1961. Some of the rockets will make seismic recordings to determine its structure.

On a vaster scale, the way in which the solar system formed is illustrated by the way galaxies evolve. Galaxies, like our Milky Way, are great collections of stars (some 200 billion in the Milky Way). There are literally millions of galaxies within range of our telescopes, in different stages of development—perhaps, also, with stars harboring life in different forms.

Red Hook Plans December Vote On School Issues

Voters in the Red Hook Central School District will vote in mid-December on two propositions, one for a new elementary school and the other for a new junior-senior high school.

Should both propositions be defeated, the one receiving the greater backing would be put up individually at a later date.

The school board's architects have estimated the costs for the elementary school with a pupil capacity of 900 at $1,425,500, including the purchase and development of a site. The junior-senior school would cost in the neighborhood of $1,640,000.

An appraisal of $29,000 has been made on the Gordon Voorhis property, which the school board wants to purchase for a new school site. The purchase price was set by three appraisers after the site was recommended last month by a committee assigned to prepare the referendum for the school building program.

The five Central American republics have a combined population of about 10 million.

Home in Gorilla

FARMINGDALE, N. J. (AP)—When the Jersey Jungle animal farm is open for business, Bobar, the mechanical gorilla, stands at his post emitting ferocious roars and waving his arms to attract tourists. In the off-season, Bobar usually stands silently, watching the cars roll by on Route 33. But this year, the 9-foot gorilla, made of wood, chicken wire and canvas, started giving out a curious "chirp, chirp" through his jagged teeth. Investigation showed that a family of starlings had turned Bobar's head into a cozy, rain-proof apartment.

NEW YORK (AP) — What to do about the worker who sees coming automation as a threat to his job is a growing problem for both industry and labor leaders. And with the election out of the way there may be new pressure on some government agencies to increase their study of the question.

A company whose products are a part of the automation that labor fears stresses that in its own shop the output is presided over by workers — in fact, that their personal skill can't be usurped by a machine.

Machine Would Retrain

Another company making mechanization devices is offering an automatic machine to retrain persons displaced by the automation its own products supply to industry.

And schools spring up all over the land to teach workers how to handle the mechanical giants taking over in factories and offices. The skill is as specialized as any of the manual and mental ones being supplanted.

How critical is the problem is hotly argued.

United Steelworkers Union officials have charged that automation has been a major factor in eliminating 10,000 production and maintenance jobs in the last year. A labor Department survey shows about one fourth of the old jobs disappearing when electronic computers come into offices. But it adds that about one third of those displaced were given other work and about 2 per cent were trained for the purely computer jobs.

See All Benefiting

Management's reply to labor charges is that automation creates new jobs as well as eliminating old ones, that speedier and cheaper production opens markets that in turn make jobs outside the factory, and that anyway mechanization has been going on since the industrial revolution with everyone benefitting in the long run.

The company that boasts of non-automated workers turning out automated devices is International Rectifier Corp. of El Segundo, Calif. It cites these examples in making its products:

Silicon power diodes require 27 in-process tests, most requiring personal attention, with no mass testing shortcuts.

Only superskilled workers can make rectifiers. They must be tested by people analyzing the results.

Solar cells are produced by techniques requiring human qualities the company says approach the artistic.

The rarest North American bird is the ivory billed woodpecker.

Gas Light Era

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Think the gas light era ended some 50 years ago? Richmond's last gas street light was extinguished when World War II blackouts became necessary—but they are coming back. Fifty antique lights which once lit the streets of Baltimore will be used in courtyards of a new two million dollar apartment house here. Officials of the Commonwealth Natural Gas Co. say Dallas has 21,000 in use, Phoenix 6,000; Kansas City 10,000; Los Angeles 20,000; Cleveland 4,000 and Shreveport, La. 46,000.

Ulster to Study Numbering Plan For Town Homes

A study of the numbering of homes in the Town of Ulster will commence in the near future by action Wednesday night of the town board.

The board authorized the town planning board to discuss the matter with town planning consultants and make recommendations.

Many Unnumbered

At the present time many homes in the township remain unnumbered.

It is felt that numbering of homes will greatly improve services in the township and will offer many benefits to its residents. The study will begin first in the residential sections.

The town board, holding its November meeting last night in the Lake Katrine Grange Hall was host to two young people in honor of Catholic Youth Organization Week. Some time ago Supervisor Alexander Banyo appointed Joseph Colao as honorary supervisor of the township during CYO Week. He also appointed Patricia Werner as honorary deputy supervisor. Both were present last night to obgovernment.

The board authorized purchase of a 1961 station wagon from the New York State Purchasing Department and an application to the State Youth Commission for state aid in its 1961 recreation program. The state reimburses such a program by 50 per cent. It was reported that last year's recreation program, which included the first field olympics sponsored by the town, had been highly successful.

The recreation program, under the direction of Robert Bondar, includes two evenings a week—Wednesday night at the Lake Katrine School and Friday night at the Chambers School.

Purchase Authorized

The board also authorized purchase by the town road superintendent of an automatic sander and spreader, using surplus funds of the highway department.

Joseph Lamphere was appointed as dog enumerator by the board. He will begin his work next week.

Constable Lamphere, Town Road Superintendent Cortland Van Etten and Mrs. Laura K. Every, town clerk, were praised by Supervisor Banyo for their efficient handling of election machinery and problems Tuesday.

Kennedy Facing Some Hurdles in 87th Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's promised package of economic-welfare measures will face a number of tough hurdles in the first session of the 87th Congress.

But the new chief executive also will have several things in his favor as he tries to put through four proposals which he repeatedly told his campaign crowds would be high on the agenda of a Kennedy administration.

Hot Issues Before

The four are minimum wage liberalization, a medical care program tied to the Social Security system, federal aid to education, and depressed areas legislation.

These have been debated for years; all were hot issues in the last Congress, but failed of enactment because of vetoes or a legislative snarl or just plain lack of votes.

On the debit side for Kennedy in his drive to win passage of the measures will be:

1. The closeness of his popular vote victory, which foes of the measures can interpret as meaning he has no mandate for his program.

2. The falling off of Democratic majorities in both Senate and House.

3. The stiff opposition of many groups and particular economic interests to the four measures; this has contributed heavily to their defeat so far.

4. The likelihood of a continued conservative Democratic - Republican majority on the House Rules Committee. This body has wide roadblock powers, but efforts may be made to trim these when the new Congress meets.

Some on Credit Side

On the credit side:

1. The important powers of a new president, which Kennedy has had a chance to study from the congressional viewpoint for 14 years. These include the appointive power and the job of drawing up the federal budget with all its far-reaching ramifications.

2. The affirmative White House leadership which Kennedy will give in behalf of the measures, in contrast to President Eisenhower's opposition to them.

3. The switch in the chairmanship of the House Labor and Education Committee from conservative Rep. Graham Barden D-N.C., to liberal Rep. Adam Clayton Powell R-N.Y. This committee handles the wage and school bills. Barden is retiring from Congress.

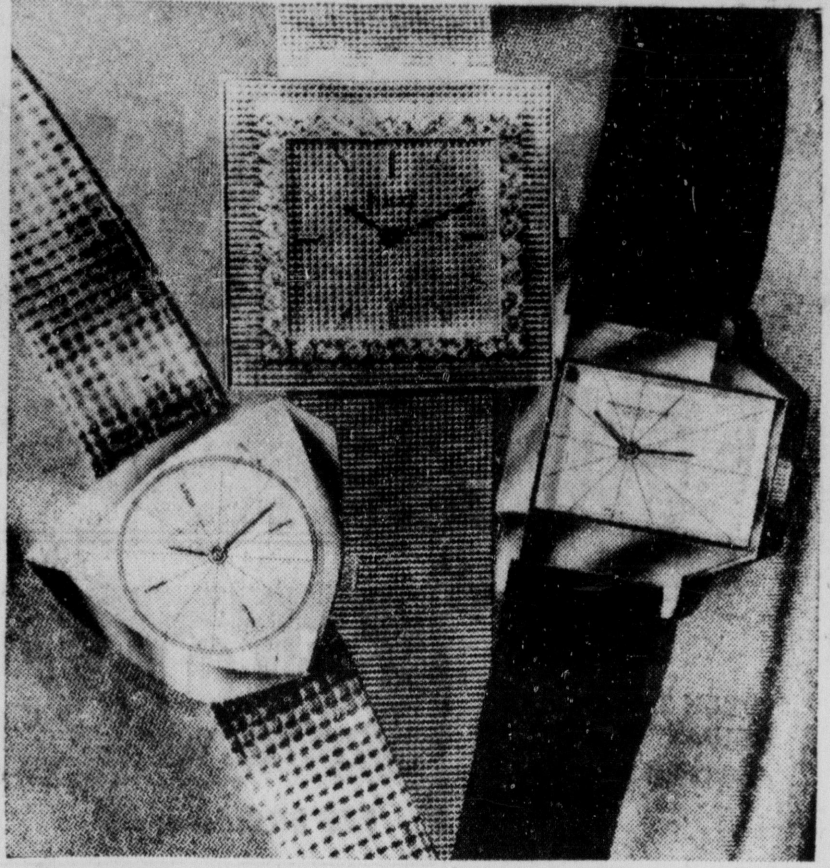
Depressed areas legislation would seem to have the best chance of quick action in the 1961 session. Democrats got such a measure through in 1958 and 1960 but Eisenhower each time killed it with a veto.

The legislation is designed to help areas of high and chronic unemployment attract new industries with federal loans, grants and technical aid.

The new Senate will be 64-36 Democratic instead of 66-34 as in the past Congress. In the House, the Democrats apparently lost a net of 22 seats. With 5 races undecided, the lineup so far for the 87th Congress is 257-175 Democratic as compared with 283-154 in the 86th.

Joke Pays Off

GENEVA, N. Y. (AP)—As an election day joke, Henry Smalldone, a variety store owner, hauled out a pile of old Roosevelt and Dewey buttons from the 1944 presidential campaign and put them on sale. He said he sold them all.



Eye-catching new designs in watch cases stimulated great buyer appeal when unveiled at the 1960 International Watch and Jewelry Show in Geneva, Switzerland. Judged among the most attractive wrist watches on exhibit were, left, a pentagon in gold setting off the round dial; center, a dial offset by diamonds which creates the illusion that the gold mesh strap passes through the case, and right, a model facing off the strap and the pivot for hands off-center.

Arrives in Korea

OSAN AB, OSAN KOREA (OI)—Staff Sergeant Raymond W. Hoetger, husband of Mrs. Carolyn F. Hoetger of 10 Valley Street, Kingston, recently arrived at Osan Air Base, Korea. He will be assigned to the 6314th Transportation Squadron as a machinist.

The 6314th Transportation Squadron, to which Sgt. Hoteger is assigned, is part of the 314th Air Division. The 314th, its headquarters at Osan Air Base, "Freedom's Frontier," is charged with the responsibility of keeping the peace through defense operations throughout Korea.

The 314th is also helping to develop with the Republic of Korean Air Force self-sufficient training programs and to build up an effective air defense force.

A native of Kingston, Hoetger attended Kingston High School before coming into the service 15 years ago.

Team cooked prunes with fresh orange sections for breakfast fruit.

MEXICO (5,000) — Communists are split in two parties —the Mexican Worker and Farmer Party and the Peoples Party. The first lacks necessary membership for electoral registration; the second holds one governmental seat. Influence is considered weak.

HONDURAS (400)—Communist party, outlawed in 1946, has provoked strikes of rum workers in U.S.-owned companies in recent years but is not considered a threat. Government is stable, economy sound.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC (?) — Communist party very small in this oldest dictatorship in Latin America. Large, poorly organized underground opposition to Trujillo not believed dominated by Communists.

HAITI (?) — Desperately poor republic has no Communist party.

COLOMBIA (5,000)—Communist party is legal but has no representation in government. Capital city of Bogota is one of the main Communist publishing centers in Latin America. Coalition government somewhat unstable.

GUATEMALA (1,200)—One of the centers of Cuban intrigue and government of President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes is considered "far from stable."

VENEZUELA (40,000) — This is considered a problem country by the U.S., partly because of our oil interests there. Communist party polled 6.23 per cent of the vote and held its 9 legislative seats. It has quadrupled in size since the overthrow of Marcos Perez Jimenez in 1958. Party is active in student, labor, teaching and journalistic groups.

EL SALVADOR (1,000) — Communist party (PCS) outlawed in 1950. Country in political turmoil after recent military coup. Considered ripe for Communist pressure moves because of unequal distribution of wealth.

BRAZIL (50,000)—Brazil has serious economic troubles including unstable coffee prices. The country also has one of the largest trades with Russia in Latin America. Communist party outlawed in 1947.

NICARAGUA (200) — Communist party is rigidly suppressed. This is another Latin America dictatorship ripe for a change.

COSTA RICA (300) — Relatively wealthy, politically stable and economically developed country has little Communist activity.

PANAMA (?)—Party was outlawed in 1953 but its remaining members have capitalized on Panamanian dissatisfaction with U.S. over Canal Zone. Communists helped anti-U.S. demonstrations earlier this year.

BOLIVIA (6,000) — Communists, split in three parties, polled 1.8 per cent of vote in 1958. Country is poor, money inflated and food short.

ECUADOR (1,000)—Communists won two legislative seats in 1958. Party has some student and labor influence.

PARAGUAY (500)—Another dictatorship under General Alfredo Stroessner whose regime has clamped down on socio-economic reform. Though small numerically, Communists are in political, educational, labor groups.

PERU (6,000)—Poor country with ancient landed interests. Mobs attacked Vice President Nixon in Lima on his 1958 Latin American tour.

CHILE (20,000-25,000)—Communists hold government seats under other party labels. Country has one of the most active Communist movements in South America but also has a strong tradition of orderly constitutional change.

ARGENTINA (70,000-80,000)—Communist-run PC party got 2.4 per cent of the votes in Feb., 1958, and is active in student centers and labor. Communist strength has doubled since Juan Peron overthrown in 1955.

URUGUAY (5,000)—Communist party (PCU) polled 2.6 per cent of the vote and won two legislative seats in November, 1958. Uruguayans give Communists complete freedom but they are no threat in this wealthy country.

MORE CUBAS SOUTH OF THE BORDER?—Fidel Castro's leftist Cuba is a base for Russian and Chinese oriented Communist infiltration of Latin America, according to U.S. State Department. How strong are the Communist groups? It is estimated that there are 210,000 to 230,000 Communist party members in Latin America, not counting fellow travelers. Newsmap gives a country-by-country breakdown on distribution and influence.

Three-Year-Old Injured in Fall From Dad's Auto

A three-year-old Kingston boy, who fell out of his father's car Wednesday night while it was proceeding on Route 32 near Tillson, was reported in good condition today at Benedictine Hospital.

Ernest Longhi, son of James Longhi, 30, of 33 Van Buren Street, suffered contusions and abrasions of the face and forehead, state police reported.

Kingston Trooper John Krom said Longhi was driving his 1948 sedan east on Route 32, near Tillson when the left rear door opened and the operator's son fell from the vehicle.

The mishap occurred at 8:45 p. m.

Loses Second Time

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP)—The granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan lost her second attempt to win a congressional seat. Rudd Brown, 40, a Democrat, was defeated by Republican incumbent Edgar W. Hiestand, 72, in the 21st district, 171,094 to 124,067.

Mrs. Brown's husband is geochemist Harrison Brown of the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena. She was a vigorous supporter of Democrat John F. Kennedy for president.

Navy Captain Acquitted Of 2 Charges in Crash

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The captain of one of two Navy destroyers that collided has been acquitted of two remaining specifications resulting from the collision, which took 11 lives.

Cmdr. Walter T. Ford, skipper of the USS Collett, was acquitted by a court-martial Wednesday of specifications concerning adequate watches in the combat information center and bridge and bow of the Collett.

He had pleaded guilty as the trial opened to a general charge of negligently hazarding his ship.

Eleven crewmen of the other destroyer, the USS Amen, were killed in the July 19 collision off the Southern California coast.

Kennedy, Aides Discuss Liaison

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President-elect Kennedy conferred with his aides today about the selection of a representative to act as liaison with President Eisenhower's aides.

Kennedy had not yet replied to Eisenhower's telegram on the question of "the orderly transfer of executive responsibility."

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said "we expect to have the answer some time today."

Normal Procedure

It is the normal procedure for the president-elect to name a representative to keep in touch with the administration in the period between the election and the inauguration on Jan. 20.

Salinger said Eisenhower's telegram was received late Wednesday afternoon. The text of it was released in Augusta, Ga. at 10 a.m. today.

Eisenhower also suggested liaison meetings with the director of the Bureau of the Budget and Secretary of State Herter.

Kennedy also was studying a telegram from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Going to Florida

At the same time, Kennedy's aides were working out arrangements for him to go to Palm Beach, Fla., to rest for 10 days to two weeks. Salinger said Kennedy might leave Hyannis Port, his summer home, on Friday.

Khrushchev's telegram appeared to indicate a desire for direct discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on the most dangerous world problems.

"I think you will agree that the eyes of many people are fixed on the United States and the Soviet Union because the destinies of world peace depend largely on the state of Soviet-American relations," Khrushchev said.

He referred to disarmament and the question of a peace treaty with Germany as major questions. "We are ready, for our part, to continue efforts to solve such pressing problems," Khrushchev messaged.

He congratulated Kennedy on winning the presidency and said "We hope that while you are at this post the relations between our countries will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time."

No Appointments Now

On the matter of "orderly transition of government" the procedure is for the president-elect to appoint a representative to meet regularly with administration officials on current developments. This representative keeps the incoming president advised.

Kennedy said he would "announce within 24 hours arrangements with the administration with regard to the transitions."

But he said he would make no arrangements of appointments to his administration before Thanksgiving.

Suffers Leg Injury

Helen L. Meyer, 48, of Box 881, Tillson, police said, suffered an injury of the right leg in a traffic mishap as she was walking across Broadway at O'Reilly Street, early Wednesday night. The car involved, the report said, was owned and operated by Joseph T. Sweeney, 58, of 102 West O'Reilly Street. He was turning left into Broadway from West O'Reilly Street. The report said the injured woman was to be treated by a doctor.

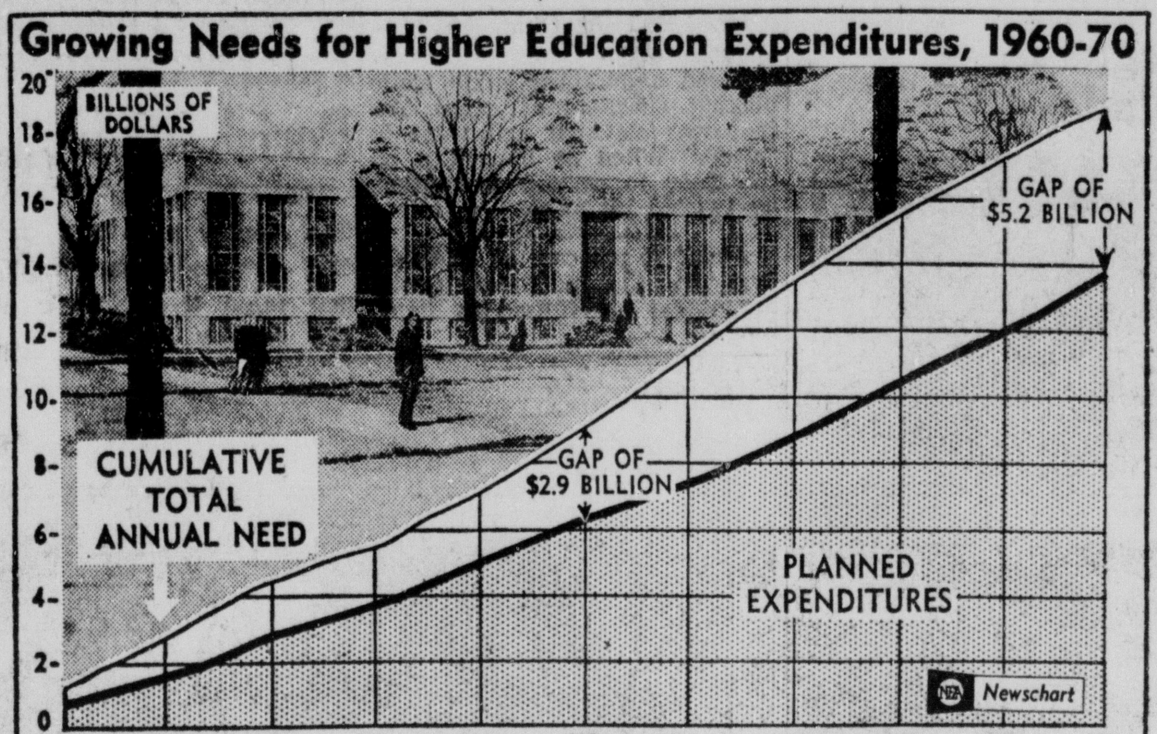
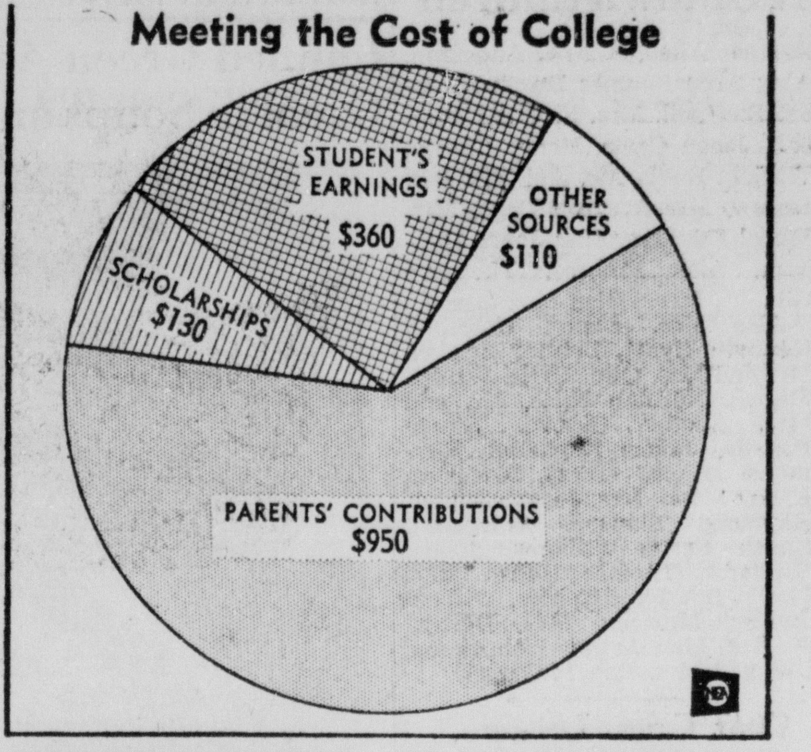
ONE-WAY—This is a new mouth-to-mouth resuscitator which enables a rescuer to use the most effective method of artificial respiration without objectionable contact. The unit, invented by Dr. Morris H. Brook of Saskatoon, Canada, and manufactured by Willson of Reading, Pa., has a one-way valve to prevent breath or moisture returning from the victim's lungs. It costs under five dollars.



HIGHER—AND HIGHER—EDUCATION—American colleges and universities are now spending about one billion dollars a year for modernization and expansion of their physicals plants. But it isn't enough in the face of increasing enrollments, according to projections by the U.S. Office of Education. Within ten years, there will be a gap of over five billion dollars between what is needed and what is expected to be available. Enrollment by 1970 is expected to total some six million students, over two million more than at present.



WHERE IT COMES FROM — Parents still pay the major share of college expenses for their children, according to a nationwide study conducted by the University of Michigan. The study estimated that the average cost to unmarried students for the 1959-60 school year was $1,550. Chart above shows the relative importance of the sources of that money. Over half the nation's college students now earn part of their expenses. Only one out of four students receives any scholarship help.

75 Cases Called On Calendar of November Court

A criminal calendar of 75 cases was called before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn at the opening of the November trial term of County Court. Two cases were disposed of by plea. Peter Buckman, charged with violation of Section 970 and engaging in pool selling and bookmaking, was represented by Frank Campochiaro and paid a $100 fine. Margaret Galloway, charged with criminally possessing a pistol, was represented by Attorney Thomas Saccoman and under her plea was sentenced to 30 days in jail. The time had already been served and credit was given.

District Attorney Raymond Mino called the calendar and several cases were set down for future dates.

Due to Children's Court today, Friday being Veterans Day and a holiday, Judge Bruhn adjourned court until Monday.

Local Ceramic Pupil To Attend Plant Tour

Mark Salkind of Kingston is among 27 seniors in engineering at State University of New York College of Ceramics at Alfred University, who will make a tour of manufacturing plants and research laboratories in Pennsylvania November 14 to 18.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Salkind of Chapel Street.

Special emphasis has been placed on research in planning the 800-mile tour of six research laboratories and companies which produce electronic tubes, glass containers, brick, vitreous sanitary ware, electrial porcelain, and refractories able to withstand the heat of molten steel.

Picking Up Leaves

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, today reported that leaves are now being picked up in the Second and Third wards. It was also noted that refuse collections will continue a day late for the balance of the week because public works forces were off duty Tuesday, Election Day.

Takes Fire to Station

A hot fire saved local firemen from "a run" Wednesday when it pulled up in front of Central Fire Station. The blaze, raging heavily when firemen caught sight of it, was in a city refuse truck, driven by William Scott, of 45 Hanratty Street. It was heavily loaded with refuse and "hot ashes" was listed as the probable cause of the fire. Scott drove the truck to the fire station at 2:35 p. m., and the blaze was checked with a pump stream.

Popular Vote

The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

Dems Gain Governor

But the Democrats registered a net gain of one among state governors, raising their statehouse total to 34—their highest since 1938. Of the 27 state posts at stake, Democrats won 15 and the Republicans 12, with political changes taking place in 13 states. Six incumbents were defeated.

Kennedy has said he will wait at least two weeks before designating any of the top officials who will make up his administration.

Several Mentioned

But he will need to designate soon the man he expects to step into the shoes of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state. Among those mentioned for this role are Adlai E. Stevenson, Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, Chairman J. William Fulbright D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the former New York governor, W. Averell Harriman.

Any of these, and particularly Stevenson, might be named by Kennedy as American ambassador to the United Nations. Henry Cabot Lodge resigned this post after holding it for seven and one-half years to make the unsuccessful race for vice president on Nixon's ticket.

May Go to Paris

Kennedy will have to decide whether to go himself or send an agent to the mid-December NATO meeting in Paris. Herter, and possibly Eisenhower, will attend.

It is considered likely that Robert Kennedy, the president-elect's brother, will fill a top advisory post in the new administration. He may be active in liaison work with the outgoing GOP administration.

Robert Kennedy, who served as his brother's campaign manager, said Wednesday the senator couldn't have won the election if it had not been for the four nationally televised debates with Nixon during the campaign.

The Democratic candidate was helped by his appearance and the manner in which he handled himself, Kennedy said. He added that the TV debates "pulled the rug out" from under Nixon's argument that his opponent was too immature for the White House.

He said that, as president, Kennedy is not likely to publicize his Republican opponent four years from now by debating on TV with him.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frying chickens and leg of lamb battled this week for the top spot on the housewife's food ballot.

With both meats in good supply prices were hammered down. Fryers, down 2 to 10 cents a pound on the week, were pushed in the East and Midwest, while leg of lamb, off 4 to 14 cents a pound, was the top buy in the East, Midwest and Far West.

Pork loins also were strong contenders in some areas as beef took a back seat after running far ahead in recent weeks. With cold storage stocks up 9½ per cent over a year ago, Long Island ducklings were featured in some Eastern stores.

Butter prices edged higher in some places and eggs advanced 1 to 8 cents a dozen over a fairly wide area.

An ominous note for shoppers—the wholesale food index compiled by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., this week rose to its highest level since June 1959.

Outstanding buys among vegetables this week are listed as broccoli, brussel sprouts, cauliflower, green onions, shalotts, mushrooms, medium yellow onions, potatoes, radishes, spinach and turnips.

Best bets among fruits continues to be apples, supported by emperor grapes, cranberries and chestnuts.

Canned Green Asparagus Is Great in Soups and Salads

FRESH asparagus spears add a springlike grace and flavor to this cheese and egg meringue dish. Healthful as well as tasty.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise
Food & Markets Editor

For Sunday dinner, for luncheon soups, for party salad molds, canned green asparagus from California is a tempting and versatile vegetable. Try it on lettuce leaves with oil and lemon juice dressing and with a few thin strips of pimento.

Cream of Asparagus Soup
(Makes 8 servings, approximately 1 cup each)

Two No. 2 cans California green asparagus spears, drained; liquid drained from asparagus (approximately 2 cups), 3 cups chicken stock, ½ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup flour, ¼ cup finely chopped onion (if desired), salt and pepper to taste, ⅛ teaspoon soda, 2 cups milk or light cream.

Drain liquid from asparagus spears and reserve. Remove tips from spears and set aside for use in molded salad garnish. Chop ends of asparagus finely or press through food mill or sieve. Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add minced onion and saute until soft but not brown. Add flour and stir until blended. Remove from heat and add asparagus liquid and chicken stock. Return to heat and cook, stirring occasionally, until mixture boils and is thickened and smooth. Add baking soda. Slowly blend hot mixture into milk or cream. Return to saucepan and heat until simmering. Do not allow soup to boil.

Asparagus Salad Mold

Two packages lemon-flavored gelatin, 3 cups boiling water, 1 hard-cooked egg, sliced; 4 to 5 radishes, sliced; 8 whole asparagus spears (green), green asparagus tips (about 1 cup), ½ cup whole kernel corn, ½ cup cooked sliced carrots.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Cool. Pour small amount of gelatin into 2½-quart tower mold. Arrange egg slices and several radish slices in an attractive design on bottom of mold. Place asparagus spears around side of mold, tips down. Refrigerate until firm. Meanwhile, chill remaining gelatin until slightly thickened. Fold in asparagus tips, corn, carrots and radishes. Spoon carefully into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold onto serving plate and surround with assorted cold meats. Garnish with radish roses, if desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Casserole of tuna and stuffed olives, steamed rice, lettuce salad with green asapargus and pimento, oil and lemon juice dressing, heated Italian or French bread, butter or margarine, fruit bowl, cheese, crackers, coffee, tea, milk.

Checkers Casualty

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Scout leader George Clewlow suffered a sprained ankle while playing checkers at camp. His foot was elevated and went to "sleep." When he banged it on the floor to restore circulation, he twisted his ankle.

Tragic Birthday

Family of Five Perish in Fire

ASHLAND, Mass. (AP)—A father, mother and three children died early today in a flash fire that raced through their home. The tragedy occurred on the fourth birthday of one of the youngsters.

The victims were identified as Paul Laprise, two days short of his 30th birthday; his wife, Mary, 21, and Mary Ellen, 4 years old today; Paul Jr., nearly 2, and Katherine, six months.

The fire destroyed the interior of the two-story frame home near the center of this town about five miles west of Framingham.

Vatican Offers Congratulations To Sen. Kennedy

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today cabled congratulations to President-elect John F. Kennedy and good wishes to "the beloved American people."

The pontiff's message made no mention of the fact that Kennedy is the first Roman Catholic ever elected to the U.S. presidency. This was in line with the Vatican's policy throughout the campaign of publicly ignoring the issue of Kennedy's religion.

The Pope's cable said: "We congratulate you sincerely on your election as president of the United States of America, and, with the prayer that Almighty God may assist you in discharging the duties of your exalted office, we express our cordial good wishes for the well-being of yourself and your family and for the happiness and prosperity of the beloved American people."

In Finch Trial

Partial Verdict Report Will Be Checked by DA

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The district attorney will investigate reports by three jurors that the Finch murder trial jury No. 2 reached a partial verdict once but was directed by the judge to continue deliberating.

Three jurors said the panel agreed after a week and a half to convict Dr. R. Bernard Finch of second-degree murder and to declare itself deadlocked on the murder charge against Carole Tregoff.

They said Judge Le Roy Dawson sent word, on being told of their agreement, that they should continue to try to agree on a verdict against Miss Tregoff. The defendants are accused in the gunshot death of Finch's wife last year.

The jury was discharged Monday after saying it was deadlocked. The first trial of the physician and his ex-mistress also ended in a deadlock.

Police said Gazeks auto struck a guide wire on the fence, flipped over and landed on its side.

In addition to the feature picture, Walt Disney's "Operatic Whale" will be shown as a special short subject.

The benefit movie is the chief source of income for the Saugerties Parent Teacher Association scholarships to assist worthy students to attend college. The association benefits only from tickets purchased in advance.

A special matinee will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 17, in addition to the regular evening shows at 6:45 and 9 p. m.

SHS Girl Named Most Outstanding Speaker in Meet

Ossining, 1960 New York State National Forensic League Champions, Canisius, Xaverian and Mary Louis grabbed most of the laurels Saturday in the 15th Jeffersonville Lions Club Metropolitan Invitational.

Sawyer Sharon Johnson, however, won designation as the outstanding girl speaker in the A Division. Janet Nickerson four years ago was the last Sawyer so honored.

The Saugerties A team Sharon Johnson, Virginia Roeser, Pamela LaPlante and Charles Hall showed strength. Their 4-2 record included victories over St. Francis and Monticello, Stepinac and Wappingers. They lost to Ossining and Jeffersonville. Jamestown, perennial "top dog," missed the top rank also.

Four sophomores, Carol Knaust, Frank Mauro, Edward Strosahl and Bradley Welton struggled unsuccessfully in the B Divison.

Last year Saugerties varsity squads were major contenders in every tourney they entered. By NFL standards graduation cost the Swyers 54 degrees or points. The next most seriously hit school, Poughkeepsie, lost 37. Despite the loss, Saugerties attains a slim hold on second place over Canisius in cummulative achievement. Poughkeepsie, who surged ahead of the Sawyers in April of last year, is again first by a large margin. Jamestown is fourth.

Wanted Them Changed

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—When Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential victory seemed imminent, a woman called the Chattanooga News-Free Press and demanded: "Why aren't all of the votes in the states recounted?"

She was told that the figures were rechecked constantly for accuracy.

"I don't just want them rechecked," she declared. "I want them changed."

Gable Improves

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Clark Gable was reported in satisfactory condition Wednesday night in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital where he is recuperating from a heart attack.

Gable, 59, still is not allowed visitors. He spent an uncomfortable day Tuesday, friends said, but had less discomfort Wednesday.

The longtime king of the movies suffered the attack last Saturday.

FTC Hits Out At Underwater Mennen Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today charges the Mennen Co., Morristown, N. J., with unfair trade practices in a television commercial for its 'Mennen Sof' Stroke'' shaving cream.

The Mennen company is a leading manufacturer of cosmetics and toilet preparations.

The commission said the TV commercial shows a skindiver under water demonstrating how another shaving cream dissolves in water while the Mennen product may be applied to the face for shaving.

Said the FTC:

'The purported Mennen Sof' Stroke applied to the skindiver's face was actually a mixture of toothpaste and shaving cream, and the diver cupped his hand to a lesser degree in discharging the competing brand.''

This, the agency said, is not a valid portrayal of the Mennen product and it also 'falsely disparages these competitive products.''

The Mennen company was given 30 days in which to file answer to the complaint.

Why Not Train and Hire Women in 40-65 Group?

American women are supposed to be so useless, so frustrated and so unhappy that someone is always coming along with a crack-brained scheme for making them over into the image of the women of some other age or some other land.

The latest proposal set, forth by Marion K. Sanders in a recent issue of Harper's magazine, is that young American women between the age of 18 and 26 should be drafted into a National Women's Service Corps.

The draftees would, according to the proposed plan, "receive basic training to fit them for useful sub-professional work in areas of critical need — chiefly our health, educational and social-welfare services."

The implication seems to be that if the Russians can put their women to work wherever they are needed that we can do the same thing.

We probably could. But who wants to? American women don't have to be drafted to serve their country however and wherever they are needed. All that is necessary is to show them where and how they are needed.

Besides, it's not the young women of our country who are begging for worth-while jobs. Young women are today, as they have always been, mainly concerned with finding a husband and making a home and having a family.

But we do have in our country a great many women who, with their families reared, are ready to go to work.

If we are going to train any group of women, how about offering the training and the job opportunities to them? Not, of course, on any compulsory basis such as a draft. But simply by offering them training and refresher courses and making jobs available to them.

The way things are now it is difficult for a woman, however willing or however capable, to find a job if she is over 40. And yet women between the ages of 40 and 65 make good, dependable workers.

We have all the women power we need in this country without drafting anyone in skirts if we would just give our middle-aged women a chance to go to work.

For practical pointers on getting along with that man in your life, order your copy of Ruth Millett's new booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Just send 25c to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Irish Soldiers Mutilated

U. N. Troops Seek Savages Suspected of Killing Nine

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo ZAP)—United Nations soldiers advanced from three sides today on a tribe of fanatic savages suspected of having killed nine Irish soldiers in a north Katanga ambush Tuesday.

The mutilated bodies of five of the ambush victims were found Wednesday by an Irish search party. A U.N. spokesman said they could not be identified. Four other men are missing and presumed dead.

Two members of the 11-man patrol survived the ambush without injuries, but were too shocked to give any immediate information, the spokesman said.

The survivors, Pvt. Joseph Fitzpatrick and Trooper Thomas Kenny, are under medical care at Albertville.

The ambush was at first believed to have been staged by members of the Baluba youth movement, supporters of ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba and violently hostile to Katanga's secessionist premier, Moise Tshombe.

Later information raised a suspicion that the attackers may belong to the fanatic Kikiwat tribe, outlawed to the remote and desolate area many years ago by the Belgian colonial administration.

The Kikiwats were converted in Jehovah's Witnesses by American missionaries during the 19th century. They interpreted their new belief as requiring the killing of nonbelievers. They are believed to have formed a secret society to which a tribesman could be admitted only if he killed his own father.

Rikhye said that if the Kikiwats are in fact responsible for Tuesday's massacre "our task will be very difficult."

More than 100 United Nations soldiers were cautiously moving forward into the area today with orders to shoot to kill if attacked.

There are currently about 2,135 cases of leprosy under treatment in the Culion leper colony in the Philippines.

Would Resume Tests

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robert E. Wilson, member of the Atomic Energy Commission, said today he considers it "imperative that we resume at least small underground nuclear weapons testing promptly."

He says he feels that way about it, because this country does not know just what the Soviet Union is doing and cannot depend upon what it says.

A REPUBLICAN CONCESSION—GOP vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge told a small crowd at Republican election headquarters in Washington early Nov. 9 that he conceded defeat if the national trend continued to go in favor of Kennedy and Johnson. (NEA Telephoto)

Offices to Close Friday, Also Banks And Post Offices

County and city offices will be closed Friday and so will all banks to observe Veterans Day.

Post offices will not be open either, except lobbies for the convenience of box-holders.

At city hall only the police department will function and at the court house, the sheriff's department.

The fire department will have full crews on duty at all stations.

Likewise, the department of public works will observe its regular schedule, picking up rubbish and performing other usual duties.

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk said there will be no city or rural mail deliveries, collections will be on holiday schedule.

Post office lobbies will be open for box holders: Main office, 6 a. m. to 2 p. m. Uptown, 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. Rondout station, 9 a. m. to 10 a. m.

U.N. Will Elect 3 Nonpermanent Members Friday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly will meet at 3 p.m. EST Friday to elect three nonpermanent members of the 11-nation Seucrity Council.

The U.N. Journal disclosed this today. Chile, Portugal and the United Arab Republic are unopposed to succeed Argentina, Italy and Tunisia in two-year terms starting next Jan. 1.

The big question is whether Portugal will get the two-thirds vote needed to win. Many African and Asian countries, and especially India, object to her because she refuses to give the U.N. information on her overseas territories.

Also on the assembly's agenda for the meeting are the election of six members of the 18-nation Economic and Social Council and of six judges for the International Court of Justice in The Hague. But it is not certain that the assembly will get through with all this business in one day.

After Robbery

2 Young Britons Die on Gallows For Fatal Kicks

LONDON (AP) — Two British youths were hanged today for kicking a man to death after robbing him.

The hanging of Francis Forsyth, 18, and Norman Harris, 23, was preceded by the usual protest against capital punishment in Britain. But in contrast to the noisy demonstrations that have accompanied some previous executions, only small silent crowds stood outside the two prisons.

Victim Was 23

Forsyth was hanged in South London. Harris died at Pentonville, five miles to the north across the Thames.

Their victim was Allan E. Jee, 23. Forsyth, Harris and two others attacked him to rob him shortly after he had given his girl a $100 engagement ring and kissed her goodnight.

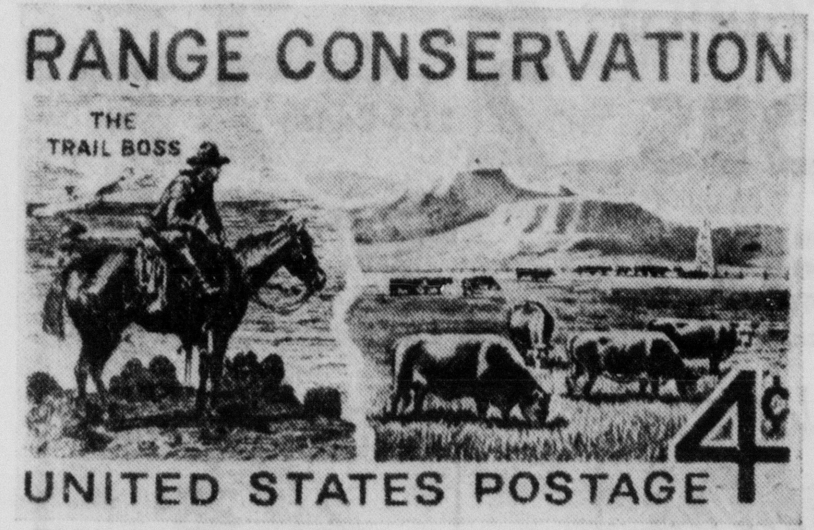
One of the other attackers was 17—too young to hang—and was ordered confined indefinitely. The other was found guilty of noncapital murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Forsyth's last request on the eve of his execution was to see his own girl friend, Margaret Catlin, 17, who is expecting his baby in January.

She spent half an hour with him in a bare interview room inside the jail. They spoke through a wire grill. Margaret left weeping.

"Francis kept laughing and joking—he didn't once talk about dying," she said.

"They have cut his floosy hair short and he was laughing about that."



PAST AND PRESENT—The range scene—old and contemporary—is depicted on this stamp which will be issued in Salt Lake City, Utah, February 2, 1961. The trail boss of former days is shown at left while a modern range scene is at right.

Also on the bill will be Kim August, female impersonator, who has a comedy act which has proved a favorite in supper clubs throughout the nation, and more recently at Ulster County Restaurant and Liquor Dealers Association clambake this fall.

Another act, the Nivellis, will present continental novelties in magic, a combination of comedy and mystery. Three other acts are also booked.

Dancing to the music of Joey Vigna and his orchestra will follow the floor show.

Proceeds from the annual program will go towards the Marine Corps League's special scholarship fund.

Tickets reservations may be made with Robert P. Heeney, detachment commandant and Gilbert Gray, ball chairman.

RAPHAEL LUCENTE JR.

The promotion of Raphael Lucente Jr., Kings Village, Saugerties, to the grade of first lieutenant, artillery, was announced this week by Lieutenant-Colonel Arthur H. Marx, commanding officer, 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard.

Lieutenant Lucente graduated from the Officer Candidate School at Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., as "top man" of his class. Awarded the United States Army Medal, he was presented with the Class of 1957 Guidon in special ceremonies at Fort Sill, for the highest proficiency in academic and military subjects. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in September, 1957, and this week received federal recognition in his new grade.

Lucente is executive officer of Battery A in Kingston. He enlisted in this same unit in November 1949 as a private and rose to the grade of Master Sergeant prior to being commissioned. He is the son of Raphael Lucente Sr. of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Emma L. Coords of Saugerties. Lieutenant Lucente is married to the former Ruth Freligh. They have a daughter, Deborah 7 and a son, Michael 2. He is employed by Pantry Markets, Port Ewen, as a butcher.

Battery "A" Officer Completes School

Second Lieutenant Robert Leon Renker, 231 Albany Avenue, a native of Austin, Texas, who joined Battery "A," stationed in Kingston, as a fire direction officer, in June 1959, returned this week from the U. S. Army Artillery and Missile School, Fort Sill, Okla. Lieutenant Renker graduated from the field artillery officer basic course there and received instruction in the very latest type of modern artillery weapons.

Lieut. Renker is a graduate of the University of Texas and is employed by IBM as a technical engineer at the Kingston plant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Renker of Austin. He was commissioned in May 1958, after having graduated from the Texas Army National Guard officer candidate school.

Col. Marx also announced the appointment of 2nd Lieut. Dennis Harry Kekas, Hillside Lake, Wappingers Falls, to the position of executive officer of Battery B, Poughkeepsie.

Sunday, Nov. 13, is Stewardship Sunday and it will be observed in the Reformed Church morning worship service at 11 a. m. Pastor Olson will preach on "Meeting the Gospel's Challenge." Canvass Drive

Sunday afternoon, 20 teams of two each will visit the homes of every resident member in an effort to secure cash and pledges toward the 1961 church budget.

The goal for this year's Canvass is $7,000 in cash contributions and $32,500 in pledges toward the next church year. The operating budget alone will amount to $15,000. The rest will be applied to the expansion program.

The congregation has already endorsed plans to provide for Sunday school facilities for more than twice as many pupils as presently crowd into the church on a Sunday morning; to furnish adequate accommodations and supplies for every church organization; to purchase necessary equipment and, through all these, to make the church more able to accomplish its ever growing mission to the residents of the greater Woodstock area.

1960 Fund Drive Points Up Many Scout Benefits

A large committee of volunteer workers from the township of Woodstock is now engaged in soliciting your help for the Boy Scouts of America. The funds will go toward the support of the Rip Van Winkle Council. This council provides service to Cubs, Scouts and Explorers in Ulster and Greene counties.

Scouting has been particularly successful during the past year in Woodstock, says Vern L. May, general chairman of the Woodstock township scout drive. "We have active Cub packs and a topnotch Boy Scout Troop that took the highest honors a few months ago in a competition between all the units in the council."

Woodstock still has a long way to go to bring this character building program to all boys in our township, because only one boy in three belongs to a scouting organization. Many of us feel that we would like to do something to improve the situation. Here is how the council can help us as long as we provide our fair share of support along with hundreds of other communities.

Some of Its Work

The council helps organize new Cubbing, Scouting and Explorer units; provides topnotch program assistance in the form of periodicals, training guides, planning systems, demonstrations and training courses; sees that standards are kept; helps recruit adult volunteers to man new units; maintains and subsidizes an excellent summer camp full of rugged outdoor life and adventure (a boy pays only $18 for a full week at this camp); and provides highly trained professional people ready to help our town any time in countless ways.

This mission has interested over 50 Woodstock residents to go out and work toward meeting the council budget. We hope that, as you are contacted, you will find it right and necessary to do all you can. Scouting doesn't cost—it pays.

Pennies' Worth of Trouble

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A batch of thin pennies bought plenty of trouble for three Toledo men. Secret Service agents said Robert D. Miller, 21; his brother, Charles, 23, and Stanley Smith, 22, admitted using a grinding machine to file down pennies, which were used in dime-operated vending machines.

Diet for Most Russians Still Far Below U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says that most of the population of Soviet Russia is still limited to a diet consisting largely of bread, potatoes and soup.

This is the record, the department said, in spite of rapid growth in Soviet farm output and expanding foreign trade in recent years.

"The average American has at his disposal three times as much fr fruit, eggs and edible fat and twice as much meat and sugar as the average Soviet citizen does, and a third more milk and milk products and fresh vegetables," a report by the department's foreign agricultural service said.

"And, though the quality of his diet is higher, the average American spends much less of his income on food than does the average Soviet citizen."

The caloric value of the Soviet diet was estimated at less than 3,000 calories a day. This breaks down to 65 per cent supplies by grains and potatoes, 15 per cent by animal protein foods (meat, milk, eggs, cheese), 10 per cent by fats and oils, and nearly 10 per cent by sugar.

Program Is Set For Tonight on '60 Israel Bond

Alfred D. Ronder, president of Temple Emanuel and general chairman of the Kingston Area State of Israel bond program for 1960, today expressed pleasure with the results of this year's area sale of Israel bonds.

Ronder announced that a combined Congregation Ahavath Israel and Congregation Agudas Achim bond affair will be held tonight at Congregation Ahavath Israel on behalf of the Israel bond program.

Chairmen of tonight's gathering are Lewis Jacobs, president of Congregation Ahavath Israel and Manuel Lipton, president of Congregation Agudas Achim.

Ronder noted that on Monday night, Oct. 10, an opening gathering for the Kingston Area State of Israel bond program for 1960, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Honig, 430 Pearl Street. At that meeting a record-breaking sale of Israel bonds took place and it was announced that a county-wide goal of $50,000 was the aim of Kingston for this year.

During the Oct. 11 meeting $26,000 worth of Israel bonds were sold, Chairman Ronder said.

Zvi Kolitz, prominent Israeli lecturer and authority on Middle East affairs, addressed the meeting and said, "Israel is at the present moment producing for export at a larger rate than ever before."

Mayor Edwin F. Radel has proclaimed the period from Nov. 6 to 13 as Israel Bond Week, and he urged people to attend the function tonight at Congregation Ahavath Israel and participate in the Israel Bond drive.

Signals Crossed

JACKSONVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Republican candidate Edwin Burno thinks his opponent, Democratic Rep. Charles O. Porter, must have gotten his mail solicitation list mixed up. Durno got a letter asking him to contribute to Porter's campaign. He gave Porter a $1 check. It was a safe gift. Porter endorsed it and handed it back.

Will Mark Mobilization Of 156th on Veterans Day

Veterans Day, Friday has been designated by First Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard for the commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the National Guards mass mobilization for World War 2.

Known as the First Battalion, 156th Field Artillery, prior to reorganization, the unit was ordered into active duty September 16, 1940. The order to mobilize by President Franklin D. Roosevelt signaled the largest mass mobilization of manpower in the nation's history.

300,000 Are Active

Within eight months, the Guard brought 300,000 men to active duty. Robert Patterson, undersecretary of war declared, "These men doubled the strength of the Army at once, and their presence in the field gave the country a sense that it had passed the lowest ebb."

Compared with today's highly trained, all-equipped units, the National Guard of 1940 was ill-prepared. The New York Times of September 17, 1940 reported that "in few areas were there enough uniforms, and in no instance was there a sufficiency of arms."

Guardsmen entered on training maneuvers using sticks for machine guns, stovepipes for artillery pieces, trucks for tanks. Yet when they entered combat little more than a year later, they performed like seasoned veterans.

The Guard took to the field 18 divisions. Nine went to Europe, nine to the Pacific. By war's end 82,000 Guardsmen had won commissions, and at least 14 were awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Has Strength Now

The lesson learned from these discouraging early days have not been forgotten. Today, the 400,000 National Guard comprises 21 infantry divisions and six armored divisions, plus hundreds of separate combat and support units. As in 1940, it would again double the combat strength of the active Army, but today its weapons include modern tanks, atomic weapons and missiles.

The Air National Guard, represented by a few observation squadrons in 1940, now includes 72,000 men operating 23 combat wings equipped with super-sonic jet fighters and global-ranging four-engine transports.

Today, Army Guardsmen man NIKE missile defenses in many major cities, while Air Guardsmen fly interceptor missions as part of the nation's air defense network.

Of the 300,000 National Guardsmen inducted into federal service in 1940, 30,646 of them were from New York State. New York State contributed the largest contingent of Guardsmen of any state for service during World War II.

Used Wooden Guns

From wooden guns to missiles and jets, the National Guard has made tremendous strides in 20 years. Top Army and Air Force leaders can now report the National Guard has reached the highest state of instant readiness in peacetime history, ready to move into position not behind, but with, the active forces.

The chronological history of the 156th follows:

The unit was organized in Kingston under Thomas Chambers in 1658 as the Trainband of Wiltwyck.

During the Revolutionary War 1776 and the War of 1812, the 1st Company, 1st Regiment, Ulster County Militia was under the command of Captain Schoonmaker.

Reorganized in 1848

In 1848 the unit was reorganized as the 20th Regiment, Infantry, (Ulster Guard) New York State Militia.

In 1861 during the Civil War the unit fought as the 80th New York (Volunteer) Regiment, and in 1881 as the 14th Separate Company.

During the Spanish-American War, 1898, the unit was known as Company M, First Regiment, New York Volunteers and during World War 1 (1917-18) as Company M, 51st Pioneer Infantry Regiment.

In 1921 the local guard unit was designated as the 132nd Ammunition Train.

The unit first assigned the 156th insignia in 1924, was known as the 1st Battalion, 156th Field Artillery Regiment and part of the 44th Division. Headquarters 1st Battalion and Battery A, 1st Battalion were located in Kingston.

Became Motorized

In 1935 the local unit became motorized.

The 156th was engaged in combat in France during October 1944, and in November 1945 was inactivated.

The more recent history of the 156th includes its reorganization as the 156th Field Artillery Battalion in November 1947; as the 156th Armored Field Artillery Battalion (self-propelled) in February 1955, and as the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery in March 1959.

Two Domestic Problems Immediate Hurdle

Kennedy's Promises to Keep Him Busy Through Next 4 Years

Editor's Note: The election is over and the task of putting a new program into effect lies ahead for Sen. John F. Kennedy. His problems and his programs as they apply to domestic affairs are discussed by James Marlow, AP news analyst, in this first of a series of three special post-election articles.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy made enough campaign promises and pledges—for better living in America — to keep him busy for his four White House years.

"The theme of this campaign," he said, "is going to be action."

His actions—and his frustrations—begin as soon as he takes office and has to deal with a Congress where, although his Democrats retained control of it there is a built-in stumbling block to some of his liberal ideas.

Expect Forceful Hand

This is the old coalition of conservatives: most Republicans and the Southern Democrats. They can block, blast and baffle the man in the White House.

A president can operate in one of three ways in dealing with Congress: forcefully, like Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt; belligerently, like Truman; or cautiously like Harding and Eisenhower.

Those who know Kennedy expect him to be forceful. But his squeaky victory over Vice President Richard M .Nixon has deprived him before he starts of that awe professional politicians have for a heavy winner.

Confronting Kennedy immediately will be two domestic problems involving money:

1. The country has had an economic downturn. He must try to avoid a recession.

No Estimate of Cost

2. Kennedy has never come up with a cost estimate for the programs he proposes. Nixon said it would be $15 billion. Kennedy hooted at that. But soon after he takes office he will have to send his list of expenses—his budget—to Congress.

He has said he would not ask a tax increase. But he also promised to keep the budget balanced—spending no more than is taken in through taxes—except in times of national emergency or severe recession.

How then, in view of his broad and far-reaching promises, would he do the balancing? He suggested various fields in which he thinks expenses might be cut. And he is going to look for tax loopholes that can be plugged up.

All Require Money

Still, most voters probably never heard of one-tenth or even one-fiftieth of the pledges and promises he made because they were contained so many times in prepared speeches which, although he stood behind them, he threw away in order to talk to crowds about something which occurred to him at the moment.

But they cut across great fields of American life at home. He said: "I believe the times demand invention, innovation, imagination and decision."

What follows here is related only to his ideas on doing things at home and is separate from his proposals on national defense and foreign policy, both of which require money and plenty of it.

Here's a look at them:

High in his consciousness are the nation's natural resources, from trees to water power.

Other Pledges

He promised action on: A comprehensive plan for many-purpose river development; "restoration of American leadership in nuclear power development; a stronger fight against water pollution; intensified research on such development programs as weather control and conversion of salt water into fresh; expansion of forest management and access road development.

His proposals on health, education and aids to older people should keep him and Congress in a whirl for four years:

A medical care for the aged program paid through Social Security; higher pay for teachers through federal aid; federal grants for construction, expansion, and modernization of medical schools, dental schools and schools of public health; loans and scholarships for medical students; grants for renovating older hospitals; long term grants for increased medical research; stepped up efforts in rehabilitating the handicapped; increased Social Security payments; improved employment opportunities for older workers; a "massive construction program" for schools and colleges.

Then there's the field of civil rights, the most inflammatory the members of Congress ever try to handle.

Here are some of the things Kennedy said on this:

"The Democratic party intends to use the full legal and moral authority of the federal government including in particular the presidency itself—to put an end to racial and religious discrimination in every area of our national life—so that every American has the same right as every other American to go to school, to get a job, to vote, to buy a house, to use any public facility and to sit down at any public lunch counter."

And he talked of creating a fair employment practices commission—an idea which is dynamite with Southerners in Congress — to make sure people applying for jobs are not turned down because of color or religion.

Then there's labor. Only part of his ideas on this are given here. He wants to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, a notion blocked by conservatives in Congress last summer. Kennedy promised full employment, better unemployment pay for workers who lose their jobs; and he promised to think up a special program for areas with chronic unemployment.

During the campaign he came up with a farm program which still needs a lot of explaining. He wants to expand the highway program, to cut down interest rates on home-buying to provide a better diet for those depending on surplus food packages, and to wipe out slums.

This isn't everything he promised—just for Americans at home Ibut it will do for a starter.

IBM Equipment, 600 Employes Aid Election Report

International Business Machines Corporation committed 600 of its employes and more than $4 million worth of equipment in all parts of the nation to Election Night reporting it was announced by IBM Corporate Headquarters, New York City.

Some 500 employes were used to telephone results from weathervane precincts across country to an analysis central.

Business machine makers were filing away reams of printout today after the liveliest computer battle in election history.

Made Earliest Claim

Claimant for the earliest correct prediction was Columbia Broadcasting System, whose IBM 7090 computer called the turn on Kennedy's election at 8 p. m. with only three per cent of the precincts reported.

Odds at that time favored the Massachusetts senator by a narrow 11 to 10.

An hour later the odds widened to 40 to 1 and the computer forecast an electoral vote of 325 for Kennedy and 212 for Nixon. At 10 p. m., as far as the computer was concerned, it was all over but the shouting. Kennedy, with 16 per cent of precincts reported, was favored to win with odds of 100 to 1.

Sharing the television broadcast with the powerful 7090 at its midtown datacenter in New York City was a RAMAC 305 located at CBS election headquarters in the lower end of Manhattan. The RAMAC compiled and correlated tallies from all sources and automatically flashed them on a studio board. The tallies were simultaneously transmitted by transceiver to 7090 at the IBM Datacenter.

Fastest in History

Analytical results were sent from the CBS election headquarters via a 7701 tape-to-tape, teleprocessing system.

Tallying was the fastest in history. At 9:30 p. m. CBS's count was almost twice that of the 1956 election for the same hour.

By mid-evening the 7090 was printing out detailed analysis that would have taken political scientists weeks, if not months, to gather by convential methods.

The bid computer foresaw key trends in the big pivotal states and spotted the overwhelming support given Kennedy by predominantly Catholic precincts.

Computer techniques used in the analysis operation were essentially the same as those employed by business in its more sophisticated market research.

Types of Lettuce

Butterhead is one of five types of lettuce; it is distinguished by its soft head and the buttery feeling of its inner leaves. Boston lettuce is a variety of the butterhead type.

Cut a tomato in six wedges, leaving the base uncut; arrange on salad greens and fill the center of the tomato with shrimp or lobster salad.

Mayor Renamed, Is Now in Jail

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. (AP)—Mayor Kemp Harrison has been re-elected even though he is serving a year and a day in prison for violation of federal bank laws.

Harrison defeated four opponents in Tuesday's election, eight days after he entered a federal penitentiary at Tallahasse, Fla.

Harrison received 1,273 votes to 1,063 for former Mayor W. T. Giles. R. T. Schroeder was third with 823. Joel Wills received 568 votes and Royce R. Pratt got 237.

Harrison, a director of the Citizens State Bank of Warner Robins, and Dreyfus Lee Fountain, the bank president, were convicted of conspiring to defraud depositors in connection with a $20,000 loan supposedly made to the city but which was deposited to Harrison's account.

Fountain drew a five-year probated sentence was $5,000 fine. Harrison was sentenced to a year and a day in prison plus a $5,000 fine.

A state law prohibits convicted felons from holding public office and opponents of Harrison are expected to contest the election.

One of the first suspension bridges in the world was built in 1826 over the Menai Strait near Caernarvon in North Wales. It is still in use.

Liz Fine After Costly Tooth Goes

LONDON (AP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor is rid of one of the most expensive abscessed teeth in history.

"She's fine, just fine this morning," said her husband, Eddie Fisher in an interview. 'now that we finally know what caused that fever, she's getting ready to work again."

She arrived in Britain with her husband and three children Sept. 8 to play the starring role in Spyrous Skouras' "Cleopatra."

She had her costume fittings and was getting ready to go on the set when she developed fever. It stumped her doctors for nearly two months.

Sunday night she said to her husband: "My tooth aches."

Dr. Norbert Weinsberg took X-rays. Tuesday he pulled the offending tooth.

Never known for understatement, Skouras, president of 20th Century-Fox, said the tooth's cost to the studio was "very big, millions of dollars."

Says Reds Have Means for Space Attempt by Man

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet scientist said today the U.S.S.R. has the "means and conditions" for sending a man into space but needs "practical experience" in handling space ships before the attempt is made.

Prof. K. Sergeyev said in Pravda, the Communist party organ, that the space ship that carried the dogs Belka and Strelka into space and back safely "is in an excellent state and can be used for more flights."

After the first few manned space flights, he said, a manned space station will be put into orbit around the earth with scientists making observations and carrying out experiments at high altitudes.

He said there is the possibility of making an on-the-spot survey of the moon by landing automatic scientific stations linked with the earth by radio and then later of setting up manned stations on the moon.

Five Weathervanes Survive By Picking Right Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Up until Tuesday there were eight counties, scattered across the country, known as "weathervanes" in presidential elections.

All eight had unbroken records for at least a half century of voting for the winner in presidential elections.

Today only five had survived. Three counties—Albany in Wyoming, Vanderburgh in Indiana, and Jasper in Iowa—broke the tradition and cast a majority of their votes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The veteran of weathervanes, Crook County, Ore., kept its slate clean and voted for the winner as it has for the past 78 years, although the state went to Nixon.

Two New Hampshire counties that have voted for the winner since the turn of the century—Coos and Stafford—also chalked up majorities for the victor again.

Iowa's other weathervane, Palo Alto County, went for Sen. John F. Kennedy and, with Jasper County falling by the wayside, became the only one of Iowa's 99 counties that has never voted wrong in this century.

Wyoming remained with one weathervane intact. Although its Albany County Gave Nixon a slight edge in nearly complete returns, Laramie County picked a winner again.

DISCUSS FUND CAMPAIGN — Meeting to discuss progress being made on the American Nurses Foundation campaign are members of the Joint Committee of Ulster and Greene Counties. Nurses Urge Support of Fund Campaign; Emphasize Need for Higher Standards

Members of the American Nurse Foundation Campaign and members of the campaign committee are hopeful that "our goal will be reached and a better understanding of nurses and their problems can be brought to the public through public support."

Meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 1, the Ulster and Greene County chairman agreed that the concerted efforts of the chairmen, radio and newspaper publicity is very gratifying. Mrs. Maria Wilber, campaign chairman of District 11, New York State Nurses Association, thanked Sidney Price and Lambert Schmidt for their assistance.

Special vote of thanks was also given Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel and the Kingston Daily Freeman and John Marquardt of Station WBAZ.

The following release was issued by the Foundation:

"In their determination to raise the standard of nursing care, nurses in this mid-century seem no less determined than their colleagues of an earlier time when nurses did most of their nursing in homes, often driving a horse and wagon over rough roads and there find an entire family ill of diseases so well controlled today by research that now they are almost a minor illness with the modern drugs and care given today by our hospitals in our community and nation. We salute these nurses, for from their example and faithful nursing care, we can follow in their footsteps. We, todays nurses, have an obligation to the future nurses and the public to make this campaign a success so that we have a strong security for the future.

"In conducting a campaign of this magnitude to meet urgent research needs the foundation is contacting, industry, medical groups, nurses and the public for support in the 50 states of the nation, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands and the District of Columbia.

"How will it effect us locally? We are members of the American Nurses Association. We as active members are kept informed through our District and State Association and through institutes, work shops, bulletins and conventions. We will know the use of the latest drugs, therapies, treatments of todays modern and scientific developments and those outmoded and obsolete practices.

"Higher standards of nursing care and procedures can be brought about within the nursing profession and while these objectives are on a national level they will help nurses in all areas and branches of nursing and health care, in hospitals, nursing homes and home care in our community and nation.

"Within this century nurses have risen in number from about 50,000 to close to one-half million actively engaged in nursing.

"At the same time the status of the nurse has changed from a bedside attendant allowed only to administer a few medications to that of a highly trained expert practicing in many fields of health care.

"Each of us has an important stake in the future in this significant work. For some, in the future years the advancement of health care could mean life or death itself.

"In order for the Foundation to carry out its program, it must have financial support and we urge all citizens to support this very important work as generously as possible and to help make our campaign an outstanding success," said Mrs. Marie Stewart, President of District 11.

The campaign will continue through the month of November. All contributions will be acknowledged and may be sent to American Nurses Foundation, 21 Clinton Avenue for Ulster County or American Nurses Foundation Headquarters at 110 William's Street, Catskill for Greene County.

Lambert Schmidt Jr. who is campaign lay-chairman for Greene County is very active in civic affairs in that area. He is also chairman of the Blood Bank and the Red Cross for Greene County.

LIPSTICK CAN BE A NUISANCE

Question: Will you print something in your column regarding lipstick stains on china, glassware, silverware and napkins? As a woman who uses lipstick from morning until bedtime I hate to see big half circles of red on coffee cups, etc., and I know it is unnecessary. I am sure many people find it most disgusting. Also, regarding the use of a linen napkin. One woman who visits us occasionally doesn't just touch her lips lightly with her napkin but wipes it over her lips and the surrounding area, thereby getting not only lipstick but her tan makeup or powder on the linen.

Answer: As you point out, it is unnecessary for a woman who uses lipstick to stain her hostess' china, glassware and napkins, and it is most inconsiderate of her to do so.

After the Funeral

Question: Recently my husband and I attended the funeral of his best friend's father out of town. Since he has always been considered close to the family, he felt sharply rebuffed when we were not invited to go back to the house with the family afterwards. I always thought that it was a matter of courtesy to invite close friends, along with the relatives who attended the funeral, back to the home for something to eat.

Answer: It is probable that they were not prepared to take care of more than the family at the house, but in any case your husband should not have felt rebuffed because you were not invited too.

An Unfortunate Gift

Question: When one receives a gift such as a lamp, table, picture or any other item intended to be useful and decorative but which, as it happens, is neither in our particular house, does one have to use it in order to avoid being rude?

Answer: I am sorry to say to avoid hurting the giver's feelings, you will have to use it in whatever way you possibly can.

13 Given More Time for Pleas On TV Scandal

NEW YORK (AP) — Adjournments until Dec. 1 were granted today to 13 defendants scheduled to plead to charges that they committed perjury in grand jury testimony concerning rigged television quiz shows.

Defense attorneys told Chief Justice John M. Murtagh in Special Sessions they needed time to prepare challenges to the legality of the charges and the legality of the grand jury that returned informations against the defendants.

Twelve of the defendants, including Charles Van Doren, former Columbia University instructor who won $129,000 on the quiz show, "Twenty-One," were in court.

Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, a lawyer, who defeated Van Doren, was absent. Her attorney reported she was ill. Adjournment was granted in her case as well as the others.

Eighteen persons have been arrested on second degree perjury informations in connection with quiz shows. Legal proceedings for the five not involved in today's court action had been scheduled previously for later this month and in December.

Church Group Prepares for Second Annual Variety Show; Soloists Are Announced

Another variety show will be given on Saturday, Nov. 19 at Columbus Hall, Saugerties under the direction of Dorothy A. Narel, organist and choir director for St. Mary's Church. Curtain at 8:15 p. m.

Popular show tunes including selections from "South Pacific," "The King and I," "Rose Marie," as well as operatic selections will highlight the evening.

Given by members of St. Mary's Church Choir in Saugerties, the show will feature two guest singers, Willet Overbaugh, well known baritone, and Virginia Mancuso, mezzo-soprano.

Mr. Overbaugh, who has gained a noteworthy reputation as an outstanding performer, resides in Saugerties. He is a funeral director associated with the Seamon Funeral Home. For the show, Mr. Overbaugh will team with Mrs. Jane Simon, another favorite singer, for a duet from "Rose Marie." Mrs. Simon, a soloist with St. Mary's Choir, will be remembered for her interpretation of "Make Believe," in last year's show.

Stage Problems

Eugene LaPlante, stage director and vice president of the choir, has had more than the usual crop of problems for the presentation of the show. Columbus Hall is actually the old St. Mary's School which was completely renovated by the men of the parish. Equipped with a stage, it was, however, completely devoid of curtains, spots, footlights and other features. "We have successfully overcome all these difficulties," Mr. La Plante told The Freeman.

Mr. LaPlante also paid tribute to the members who have devoted many hours to painting, building and sewing. "Without this spirit of cooperation, the tremendous job could never have been done," Mr. LaPlante said.

Limited Seating

In announcing some of the soloists in the show, Donald Gardner, president and technical advisor said, ". . . we think this year's show will top our first one given in November last year. Inasmuch as the show is scheduled for one night only, we urge everyone to obtain their tickets early from members of the choir. This is necessary because of the limited seating capacity in the hall."

Featured soloists will also include Leonard Gilmore, Betty Saban, Merce Farrell, Nina Zietek, Arthur Schoen, Walter Nealy, Rita Gavigan, Robert Rightmyer, Regina Hennigan, John A. Hill, Don Gardner and Eugene LaPlante.

Mrs. Mary Bunyar is providing musical assistance with the show and will be accompanist for several selections. Group numbers will be announced.

Hopeful of Visit

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury said today he hopes his projected visit to the Pope will establish firmly in the public mind that it is perfectly proper for high churchmen of different Christian faiths to meet for discussions of religious problems.

"The great thing which I hope will flow from this visit will be restoration to Christiandom of the capacity to speak without being suspect," said the archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, at a church assembly meeting.

He said that the decision to visit the Pope was his own, and not the result of a plot "hatched" at a recent meeting of the Central Council of Churches at St. Andrews, Scotland.

Debre Maneuvers To Get Approval Of Nuclear Force

PARIS (AP) — Premier Michel Debre maneuvered today to get parliamentary approval of President Charles de Gaulle's stalled plan to give France a nuclear striking force.

Debre decided to appoint a joint committee of the Senate and National Assembly to work out a compromise after the Senate rejected the $1.2-billion project early today.

The assembly gave a grudging preliminary approval to the plan last month by rejecting an attempt to censure the government over the issue.

De Gaulle's critics contend the five-year striking force plan would be too expensive and be outdated by the time nuclear-armed fighter-bomber squadrons could be organized.

Tackle Shop, A-I Cagers Win To Retain Tie in 'A' League

Scholastic Sport Scene

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

NOTE: The column below about the Middletown High football team was written by Ed Gleed, Sports Editor of the Middletown Times Herald Record. Kingston will play at Middletown in a pivotal DUSO League game on Saturday.

Middletown High football coach John Whitehead has a couple of things on his mind this week—and they both point toward the same objective: Beat Kingston.

First, he'd like to see the Middies break out in a rash of touchdowns against a longtime tormentor. And second, he is hoping to cut the string on a five-game losing streak in the series.

Middletown, which hasn't known such success on the football field since 1954, is not a high-scoring outfit and the only blotches on the Blue and White's record—a 14-0 loss to Poughkeepsie and scoreless tie with Suffern—can be traced to this fact.

TOUGH ON DEFENSE

Defensively, the Middies are a rough and ready club. They've surrendered but 28 points in six games and their 4.7 norm is second only to New Paltz (4.4) among Section Nine schoolboy teams. New Paltz, through for the season, has given up 31 points in seven contests.

What's more Middletown, counting last Saturday's 0-0 stalemate with Suffern, has kept opponents from crossing its goal line in four straight games. And if the Middies can keep that record intact Saturday, chances are they can beat Kingston.

The game will be played at Wilson Field (kickoff at 1:30 p. m.) and wind up the home phase of the locals' 1960 schedule.

Off its 4-1-1 record, Middletown verly likely will be favored to hand Kingston one of its rare defeats in the series—but by the slimmest of margins.

Whitehead, who has worked wonders restoring Middletown's football prestige in three relatively short years, has a lot of respect for the Maroon despite their mediocre 2-2 record.

"They're big and strong in the line," he commented. "And that (Richie) Sickler is a fine back. It'll be a hard game, but we'll be ready."

The Middie coach wasn't as disappointed over his club's showing against Suffern as he might have been. "Suffern was really up for the game, but we still had several chances to win it even though we weren't nearly as sharp as we have been at other times this season."

Suffern was a half-hour late arriving, thinking it was a 2 o'clock kickoff, and Whitehead felt the extra wait might have taken some of the edge off his team. However, he offered no alibis.

SOME DEFENSIVE FLAWS

Middletown showed several defensive flaws that hadn't popped up noticeably before, but Whitehead felt these could be straightened out in practice this week.

The Middies, whose last winning season was in '54, the year the Blue and White last beat Kingston and wound up with a 5-2 overall record, will be at full strength for Kingston.

That means that Steve Grodin, regular halfback who was hurt on the opening kickoff against Suffern, will be ready to take his turn on offense and defense.

The junior back was shaken up on a running play and sat on the bench the rest of the game as a precautionary measure.

Middletown operates from a split-T and will be banking on an all-underclass backfield for its scoring punch. Junior Bill Kindberg is the quarterback and an adequate passer.

The star of the team unquestionably is Ronnie Smith, a speedy halfback. Also a junior, he is the chief breakaway threat; excells on punt returns and pass-catching, and is the club's top defensive player. Smitty is a good bet for All-DUSO honors.

Soph fullback Dick Collins, a pleasant surprise, and Grodin round out the starting array.

Up front, the Middies are big and rugged with such veterans as Ang Vellake, 220, and Harvey Cushing, 217, at the tackles; Carl Cross at end; aggressive Jon Rodiek, son of the former MHS varsity coach Ed Rodiek, at center, and Jimmy Wright at guard.

The feeling in the Middletown camp is that one touchdown will mean the difference Satturday as both teams go about the business they know best—defense.

Andy Juhl Hits 35 Points for Tackles

The status quo was maintained in the "A" division of the Autumn basketball league last night, when American-Italian Restaurant thumped Accord, 78-55, and Ray's Tackle Shop whipped Texaco Chiefs, 84 to 61. The winners are tied for the league lead with 5-1 records.

Andy Juhl bucketed 35 points, high for the twinbill, to spark the Tackle Shop victory. He hit with 16 baskets and three foul shots. Ronnie Scheffel added 18 and Lafayette Holstein had 13 as the Tackle Shop overcame a 17-23 quarter deficit to forge ahead 37-30 at the half. Tom Fleming led the Texacos with 18 points, Bill DuBois canned 16 and Harry Pratt had 13.

Al Byrne of the Onteora Central school athletic staff swished 28 points for the Italian-American quintet and Marty Kaye gave a large assist with 20. It was a respectable game for three periods before the A-I squad exploded for a 34-point fourth period.

Joe Dallao (18) and Frank Wustrau (15) were the lone Accord players in double figures.

Jansen, Lockman Signed by Dark, Westrum to Stay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Alvin Dark made his first decisions as manager of the San Francisco Giants Wednesday. He hired two former teammates as coaches.

Dark, signed last week, selected Larry Jansen and Whitey Lockman and retained Wes Westrum and Salty Parker for his coaching staff. Bill Posedel was released to make way for Jansen as boss of the bullpen.

Dark, Lockman, Jansen and Westrum were all key figures for the Giants that October day in 1951 when Bobby Thomson's home run beat the Brooklyn Dodgers in a National League playoff and gave the Giants their first pennant in 14 years.

Minnesota's Tommy Brown Named AP Lineman of Week

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Strange things happen to Minnesota football rivals when a restless mauler named Tom Brown looms in view.

"Brown," smiled Gopher Coach Murray Warmath, 'affects people that way."

He affected Iowa so painfully Saturday that the Hawkeyes lurched and foundered, lost their big game to Minnesota 27-10 and surrendered No. 1 rank in the nadtion to the Gophers.

For his work, Brownie was named the Associated Press lineman of the week.

Brown, a 240-pound guard, is so tough his reputation alone bothers people.

In the Iowa game center Bill Van Buran snapped his center pass two feet over the head of punter John Calhoun and Minnesota had a touchdown two plays later.

Brown makes no claim that Bill got a little edgy bracing for the Gopher lineman's charge. "But you're not human if you don't worry with Brownie looking down your throat," a teammate said.

Against Iowa the 23-year-old former Navy policeman sealed off the middle on defense, helped protect the flanks, opened the road for numerous gains and delivered the most spectacular defensive play of the game.

On that one he hurled lineman Iowa Bill Decindio into quarterback Wilburn Hollis to break up a play on the 5-yard line and force Iowa into a field goal attempt.

The Philadelphia-Los Angeles game was the opener of a doubleheader at St. Louis. In the second game, the Hawks posted their fifth straight triumph in beating the Detroit Pistons 126-120.

Indians Lose 3rd Straight 3 to 2; Buffalo Wins 5-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Springfield Indians had entertained any thoughts of making a runaway of the American Hockey League race, the notion has been quickly dispelled.

The Indians, who won 11 of their first 13 games, lost their third straight Wednesday night to tighten things up considerably. The Hershey Bears turned back Springfield 3-2 while the Buffalo Bisons whipped the Rochester Americans 5-2.

Springfield's lead over runner-up Quebec was cut to two points. Hershey moved into fourth place, one point behind third-place Cleveland. Buffalo's victory boosted the Bisons into fifth place as Rochester fell to sixth.

The Indians' setback snapped a seven-game winning streak at home. The three straight defeats all have been by the same score, 3-2.

Maris Edges Mantle For AL Player Award

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP) — Roger Maris, the American League's most valuable player for 1960, brushed aside comment on his award today with the declaration that the New York Yankees "should go on and win it again next year."

A four-year major league veteran, Maris edged Yankee teammate outfielder Mickey Mantle by only three points—225 to 222—in the voting of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Ten players were included in the voting, announced Wednesday, with 14 points awarded for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Asked how he felt about beating out Mantle—most valuable in 1956 and 1957 — the Yankee outfielder said:

"I'm just happy I won it. I thought it was possible but I wasn't sure."

Maris, 26, celebrated his fourth year in the majors—Cleveland one year and Kansas City two before becoming a Yank- -by leading the American League in runs batted in (112) and slugging percentages (.581). He batted .283 and hit 39 home runs, one fewer than title-winning Mantle.

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's talented third baseman, was third in the voting with 211 points. It was the first time in history of the award three players received more than 200 points.

Following Robinson in the voting were Minnie Minoso, Chicago, 141; Ron Hansen, Baltimore, 110; Al Smith, Chicago, 73; Roy Sievers, Chicago, 58; Earl Battey, Washington, 57; Bill Skowron, New York, 56, and Jim Lemon, Washington, 56.

Bald Eagle Eyed As Favorite in Friday's Event

LAUREL, Md. (AP) —There was plenty of speculation today about which horse would go postward the favorite in the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International Friday at Laurel Park. Some say Bald Eagle, 'last year's winner, others like Harmonizing, and still others swing towards the French ace, Puissant Chef.

The calm advice is — don't let it worry you. After eight Internationals they're still waiting to greet a favorite in the winner's circle.

Most observers favored Bald Eagle, Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's 5-year-old star, at around 7 to 5, with Henri Aubert's Puissant Chef 5-2 and another French horse, Hautain, 3-1. Harmonizing was tabbed at 10-1.

Then the official track program odds-maker threw this early line at the "experts" and this was the recipe:

Harmonizing, 5-2; Bald Eagle, 3-1; Puissant Chef, 4-1; and Hautain 10-1.

The Laurel management calls this the "Olympics of Racing," or "The Race of Distinction." It costs nothing for a horse to start, the track foots all the bills, and with the $100,000 purse, the figures runs close to $200,000.

Mays, Cepeda Slam Homers, Giants Win

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Two home runs by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda in the fourth inning helped the San Francisco baseball Giants defeat the Japanese All-Stars 4-1 today.

It was the Giants' 10th win against three losses and one tie in their 16-game goodwill tour which ends Sunday.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Seventh ranked middleweight boxer Joey Giambra of Buffalo will meet Rory Calhoun of White Palins in a 10-round match Tuesday night at the Buffalo Memorial Auditorium.

The match originally was scheduled for Saturday night, but was postponed Wednesday night when Giambra suffered a sinus attack.

Enrollment Figures Given For Schools in Section Nine

Two schools in Rockland County have changed positions and forced a realignment in Section Nine. Nyack, formerly a Class A school, is now in Class B while Haverstraw has been moved from Class B to Class A. The changes are retroactive and are effective from the time school started in September.

Schools with 500 or more boys in the top four grades are classified "A" schools. Those in that class with total number of boys in a parenthesis are Newburgh Free Academy (1,040), Kingston (1,015), Middletown (737), Poughkeepsie (725), Spring Valley (633) and Haverstraw (551).

Nyack, which now has 449 boys, is the top school in enrollment for Class "B." Others are Clarkstown (404), Valley Central (360), Monticello (319), Ellenville (315), Port Jervis (315), Suffern (304), Monroe-Woodbury (289), Tappan Zee (246), Cornwall (245), Goshen (243), Liberty (219), Pearl River (212), Highland Falls (211), Warwick (208), Onteora (187), Rondout Valley (180), Washingtonville (180), Fallsburgh (162), Wallkill (160), New Paltz (157) and Pine Bush (157).

Nanuet, the newest school in Rockland County, has 147 boys to put it ahead of the other schools in the "C" category. Following are Highland (144), Marlboro (124), Minisink Valley (113), Delaware Valley (90) and Livingston Manor (79).

Nine schools comprise Class "D" with Chester leading with 64 boys. Then comes Jeffersonville (73), Tri-Valley (65), Florida (61), Roscoe (59), Otisville (57), Narrowsburg (50), Tuxedo (44) and Eldred (33).

It is also proposed that a change in the structure of Section Nine for basketball tournaments be made. Schools with more than 400 boys will participate in the "A" tournament and those with more than 200 boys will take part in the "B" tourney.

Casey Considers Detroit Offer to Manage '61 Team

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Casey Stengel went into conference with executives of the Detroit Tigers today after indicating he 'might be interested" in managing the American League team in 1961.

"I want to see if it's a good situation they have, what their plans are for getting ballplayers, and making deals," said the 70-year-old ex-New York Yankee pilot of the sixth place Tigers.

"I do not want to get tangled up with any second division team unless it is willing to make some important changes."

Some observers took that to mean Casey is not at all interested in the Los Angeles Americans, whose roster will be composed of nonexempts from other teams in the league.

Stengel is meeting at his home with Rick Ferrell, chief aide to President John Fetzer of the Tigers, and Vice President James Campbell.

Campbell Headed For 1960 Record, Snags 53 Passes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington State's Hugh Campbell is catching passes at a rate almost unprecedented in major college football. After eight games, the Cougar sophomore has snagged 53 for 712 yards and seven touchdowns, NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed today.

Only three players have caught more even during an entire season, and if Campbell can pass them in his two remaining games, he likely will become the third record-breaker this season.

Already one NCAA modern record has been broken and two have been tied, all in the kicking department. Ed Dyas, Auburn fullback, has kicked nine field goals, a record for one season, and his career total of 13 equals another record. Nolan Jones, Arizona State placekicker, has booted 22 points-after-touchdown without a miss, equalling the full-season recordm

Campbell is 19 pass receptions and 385 yards ahead of his nearest rival, Duke's Tee Moorman.

STILL FLYING—The Air Force Academy has had rough going the past three weeks, but sees better things ahead. Mike Rawlins is the type of fellow who will keep the Falcons going. Now a halfback, the Texan this fall made his fourth position switch in as many campaigns.

Football Briefs

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Syracuse guard Dave Meggyesy, down with tonsilitis, would face his foster brother for the first time in the Colgate football game here if he recovers by Saturday.

Bill Davidson, a Colgate guard, and Meggyesy, were co-captains at Solon, Ohio, High School.

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Injury-plagued Colgate will go into the Syracuse football game Saturday minus the services of quarterback Ed Abel, tackle Paul Jolie and guard Tony Shine, Coach Al Kelley said Wednesday.

Kelley also said captain John Maloney a right halfback, was among a group of "walking wounded" who would have to take it easy the rest of the week.

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Right end Bob Yablonski, slowed by injuries in his three-year fight for a post on the Cornell football varsity, worked with the first stringers Wednesday.

He spelled John Fenton in a light scrimmage in preparation for the Dartmouth game here Saturday.

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Carter Stickland, a Dartmouth junior from Oneida, N.Y., may replace Jim McElhenney at left tackle in Saturday's football encounter with Cornell.

McElhenney has been bothered by an arm injury, Coach Bob Blackman said yesterday.

One-Armed Player Inspiring Figure With Springfield '11'

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Gerry Lebrasseur of American International College is a prime example of an athlete who has conquered major odds.

Born with one arm, Lebrasseur has written a life story of courage and inspiration.

The senior co-captain and center on the AIC football team is considered one of the finest linemen ever to play for the Aces.

And despite his disability, he has chosen to specialize in the roughest sports of all — football and hockey.

He's been a three-year starter in both and also has had a distinguished high school career in those sports.

The 24-year-old son of a Lynn carpenter came to AIC through the efforts of Dr. Elmo Benedetto, director of schoolboy athletics in the North Shore City.

Lebrasseur also plays intramural basketball and is an excellent swimmer. His major is in business, with a minor in education.

AIC Football Coach Gay Salvucci has this to say about his crack linebacker and kickoff man:

"We're all very proud of Gerry—he's a fine leader and a tremendous inspiration to the rest of the players. He goes all out in every game, fundamentally a very sound football player. He can tackle with the best of 'em and is a very good kicker."

One-Handed End Is Football Star On Georgia Team

By ROSS M. HAGEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NASHVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Franklin Luke is pretty much like any personable young high school athlete you'd meet, except for one thing. His left arm ends just above the wrist.

Usually this would be enough to discourage anyone from pursuing such two-handed sports as football and basketball.

But the farm boy, at 17, is the first string end on the Berrien County High School football team and is one of their most dangerous offensive weapons.

In his latest outing, Luke nabbed a pass with his handless arm and ran for a touchdown. The play covered 35 yards.

Before losing his hand in a hay baler accident three years ago, young Luke appeared destined for a fine career in basketball.

"The accident didn't dampen his morale a bit," says his high school coach, Arnold Guiterrez. "After recovering he went back out for basketball and did okay except in tight situations. He finally became discouraged and quit.

"This opened the door for another outlet—football.

"He catches the ball as well as anyone we've got and does a real good job for himself.

"Franklin is just a junior, but can hoist 135 pounds with his good arm. He can also do one-handed pushups. He has to. We don't show him any consideration so he has to do it all himself. He wouldn't want it any other way."

Salt Mountain in the southwest of the Dominican Republic consists of a block of salt about 10 miles long, from one to two miles wide and from 100 to 400 feet high. Scientists estimate that it contains 150 billion tons of salt.

Maple Hill Site Deeded to Town

A deed for the 30-foot strip of land adjoining the Maple Hill School property was presented by Martin Costello of Bloomington at the October Town Board meeting. This makes more land available for the town garage to be built in this area.

Mr. Costello offered an additional 25 feet in the rear of the school property provided that town would permit this to be a public thoroughfare. The town board voted this down.

The town will renovate the former Maple Hill School for use as a community center. A letter was received from the woman's Club of Rosendale offering help on the Maple Hill Community Center Project. The board reported that a community project committee will be formed. All members of the town board and a committee from the Woman's Club will be part of this committee. Ernest Hopper, principal of Tillson School will be the chairman. Mr. Hopper suggested that the Maple Hill Center should include a small stage, kitchen, bathrooms, tables and chairs. The project would take some time to accomplish and it is expected that donations will be made by townspeople and groups for some of this equipment, either new or used. A report will be given on the progress at the next board meeting.

Hopper, recreation director of the Town, reported that the teenage dances have been very successful, especially at Tillson and Rosendale. It was felt at the Maple Hill and Bloomington attendance was small due to a transportation problem and it is hoped to solve this situation soon.

Mrs. Millie Warren of Tillson was appointed dog enumerator for the Town.

P-TA Book Fair Is Huge Success

The first Tillson P-TA Book Fair held at the Tillson School, proved to be a most popular event with lots of Christmas books being purchased early.

Ernest Hopper, principal of the school, invited the parents to visit the school during American Education Week. In regard to the addition to the school, Mr. Hopper said that it is expected that the building would be completed after Thanksgiving and before Christmas.

President Mrs. Robert Morrow reported having attended the New York School for the Deaf at convention time.

She announced that P-TA Council will meet Nov. 28 at 8 p. m. and the topic will be, The Good Lines of Communication.

She reported that the P-TA had furnished the doughnuts and awards for the children's Halloween party. Bagley's Market donated the cider.

Mrs. Arpha Craft, fifth and sixth grade teacher, reported that she had represented the P-TA at the panel discussion regarding the accelerated class. Advanced and enriched programs on the elementary school, junior and senior high level, were discussed. The general consensus seemed to be that educating children at different degrees has proven to be a most satisfactory solution.

The next meting will be held on the first Thursday in December and those attending will bring an exchange gift. Anyone having toys and games in good condition may bring the article to the next meeting to be given to those who could use them.

It was announced that anyone having a girl who is interested in joining the Tilson Girl Scout troop now being formed, should contact Mrs. Hopper.

Mrs. Robert Messner, sunshine chairman, asked that anyone knowing of anyone who is ill should contact her.

Mrs. Craft's fifth and sixth grade parents won the attendance award for he September meeting.

The Book Fair was in charge of the Program Committee, the Mmes. Morrow, president, Gene Van Winkle, chairman; Hollis Harvey, Randolph Christensen, Ralph Grothkopp and Mr. Hopper, principal.

Parents-Teachers Set Open House at Rosendale School

Hostesses for the evening will be the Mmes. Joseph Salvatore, Ronald Johnson, George Winters, Gene Van Winkle and Miss Susan Hornaker. Merton Blanchard, director of elementary education, Edward Gree, supervising principal and John Thornton, principal of the Marbletown School, have been invited to attend.

Paltz Dean Will Be on Panel to Discuss Committee

ROBERT W. PYLE

Dean Robert W. Pyle of the State University College of Education, New Paltz, will be a member of the panel which will discuss formation of a non-partisan nominating committee for selection of candidates for the Kingston School District (Consolidated).

The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the George Washington School Wednesday night, Nov. 16. The public is invited and urged to attend. The panel is sponsored by the Kingston Branch, American Association of University Women.

Dr. Pyle received his Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and his Doctor of Philosophy from Harvard University.

His business and teaching experience include five years in banking in Pennsylvania, four years of teaching in the public schools of Delaware and 18 years in college work. He was at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, 1942-44, Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, 1944-50, and the college in New Paltz since 1950.

Dr. Pyle spent one year in research at the Woods Hole Oceanograph Institution where he conducted physical oceanographic research for part of the time, the balance spent as a post-doctoral Fellow in Marine Biology. He was awarded a certificate of merit by the government for research done during World War 2.

He holds membership in Sigma Xi, The American Association for the Advancement of Science, The American Society of Zoologists, The Ecology Society of America, The National Education Association, New York State Teachers Association, The American Association of University Professors, and others.

Also scheduled to appear on the panel is Edward M. Gardner of Ardsley, a member of the Ardsley Elementary School Parent-Teachers Association who in 1959-60 served as a member of the P-TA executive board.

A non-partisan nominating committee, as envisaged by AAUW, would be composed of representatives of various civic organizations and members-at-large. Each organization would be represented by two delegates, according to tentative plans.

Under the present system any resident of the school district may become a candidate for the board by obtaining 100 signatures on a petition. It is the feeling of AAUW that candidates should be carefully screened in order to obtain those best qualified.

Invented Eyeglasses

A Florentine, who died in 1285, has been credited with inventing eyeglasses. An inscription on his tomb reads: "Here lies Salvino d'Armato of the Armati of Florence. The inventor of spectacles, God forgive him his sins."

Cry of the Goose

Wawa, Ont. was named—indirectly, to be sure—by the Canadian Goose. It was the cry of the goose that caused the Indians to name the area "Wa-Wa," and pioneer settlers took the name for their town.

Mother Goose, Others to Be in Nov. 19 Parade

One delightful section of the Children's "Fairy Tale" Christmas parade here on Saturday, Nov. 19 was inspired by the Merry Rhymes of Mother Goose, beloved by children for centuries.

There will be Mother Goose herself, a "Big Head" balloon, with large hat, spectacles and shawl. Also her white goose flapping its wings, and turned out like Mother Goose herself, in spectacles and shawl.

Following Mother Goose are her happy children, "Jack and Jill," "Little Jack Horner," "Little Girl with a Curl," "Jack Be Nimble" and "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary." All these gay children will romp throughout this Mother Goose section.

Other Mother Goose characters will also be there, such as "The Three Little Pigs" with their houses and the Big Bad Wolf, the huge 40 foot long Dog in "Oh Where, Oh Where Has My Doggie Gone," and many other charming Mother Goose characters.

They'll all be in Kingston, Saturday morning, Nov. 19, starting at 9:30.

This huge parade of giant balloons is being staged, cooperatively by the Central, Rondout and Uptown Merchants Associations, the City of Kingston, and the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. The Kingston Firefighters Association will provide 10 off-duty men to supervise various sections of the parade. Local youth organizations, the Boys Club, Boy Scouts, the YMCA and the YWCA will provide the boys and girls to handle the balloons and dress up as some of the characters.

Soviet-Arab Try To Delay Congo Debate Beaten

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States succeeded today in blocking a Soviet-Arab move to adjourn a U.N. Credentials Committee debate on the seating of a Congo delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

The vote came after the U.S.S.R. accused the United States of trying to railroad a decision with the aim of disrupting U.N. efforts to bring political peace in the turbulent African country.

The committee rejected a Moroccan adjournment motion by a vote of five against, three in favor and one abstaining. Only the Soviet Union, Morocco and the United Arab Republic supported the proposal. New Zealand, as chairman, abstained.

The committee then began debate on a U.S. proposal that it act now on the seating of a Congo delegation, headed by Kasavubu. This proposal was vigorously opposed by the Soviet Union, which is backing a rival delegadtion named by deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Phoenicia Church To Hold Annual Memorial Service

The Father Ginet Council of the Knights of Columbus will hold its fourth annual memorial service at St. Francis de Sales Church in Phoenicia on Sunday, November 13, at 7:30 p. m.

Members of the American Legion Posts of Olive, Woodstock, and Phoenicia are invited as well as the general public to pay honor to all of our war dead. Last year the ceremony was very impressive with the Columbian Squires extinguishing a candle at the end of each decade of the Rosary. At the end of Benediction, the blowing of "taps" made moisture in many eyes. The final ending came with those assembled singing the Star Spangled Banner.

A good turnout is expected as was the case last year with excellent comments on the service.

The dodo bird had it too good. Lacking natural enemies in his island home, he eventually lost all ability to defend himself. Portugese sailors who arrived in the 16th century brought hogs that destroyed the dodo's eggs and young. Soon the dodo disappeared.

Victim of Hotel Blaze Exposed, Had Two Wives

NEW YORK (AP) — A house painter who died of a heart attack during a fire in the Hotel New Yorker has been exposed as a bigamist who had two wives for the past nine years.

Detective John Aiveoli said neither of the two women knew of the existence of the other.

The painter, Emanuel Veneziano, was an employe of the hotel and died during the fire Monday in which 19 persons were overcome by smoke.

Veneziano became estanged from his first wife, Jennie, in 1951, after 19 years of marriage and married a second woman, Alejandrina, now 44, the detectives said.

Every Sunday Veneziano visited his first wife and their son, Joseph. Mrs. Alejandrina explained to neighbors that her husband worked out of town.

Veneziano's double life was exposed when Mrs. Alejandrina Veneziano phoned Joseph—whom she had believed was simply her husband's nephew—and told him of Veneziano's death.

Joseph then told her he actually was Veneziano's son.

Both women laid claim to the body, but Detective Aiveoli, acting as an arbiter, turned it over to Joseph.

Both women were beneficiaries in insurance policies held by Veneziano.

'Gospel Fund' Going To Buy School Books

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—The $12,000 'gospel fund'' in the Town of Lansing, north of here, will be turned over to the Board of Education to buy library books.

Voters in the town approved the action 796 to 381 in Tuesday's election.

The gospel fund, one of the few remaining in the state, was created in Revolutionary War times. Free land was turned over to veterans of the war. If the veterans did not take up the offer, the land was sold and the proceeds turned over to the fund.

In past years, money in the fund has been loaned to destitute families.

Havana Credits 3 Russians for Liberating Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Three Russians helped the Cubans liberate their island from Spain during the war 62 years ago, the Castro-controlled newspaper El Mundo said today.

The paper gave front-page attention to a Cuban news agency dispatch from Moscow that based the claim on information in the national archives there.

The archives disclose, said the news agency, that a Russian ship sailed from Leningrad — then called St. Petersburg—to Cuba in 1896. Three Russians aboard fought six months with the insurgent forces of Gens. Antonio Maceo and Guillermo Moncada, but were captured and sentenced to death. They were freed through the intervention of the Russian consul in Havana, the agency said.

Propagandists for Fidel Castro have been trying to rewrite Cuban history lately to show that the United States, rather than helping to free Cuba, entered a war already won from Spain to gain economic penetration.

Soviet-Arab Try To Delay Congo Debate Beaten

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States succeeded today in blocking a Soviet-Arab move to adjourn a U.N. Credentials Committee debate on the seating of a Congo delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

The vote came after the U.S.S.R. accused the United States of trying to railroad a decision with the aim of disrupting U.N. efforts to bring political peace in the turbulent African country.

The committee rejected a Moroccan adjournment motion by a vote of five against, three in favor and one abstaining. Only the Soviet Union, Morocco and the United Arab Republic supported the proposal. New Zealand, as chairman, abstained.

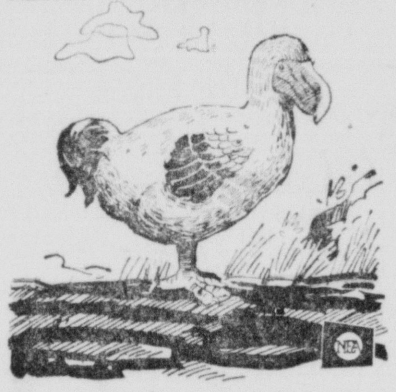
A good turnout is expected as was the case last year with excellent comments on the service.

matter of FACT



The dodo bird had it too good. Lacking natural enemies in his island home, he eventually lost all ability to defend himself. Portugese sailors who arrived in the 16th century brought hogs that destroyed the dodo's eggs and young. Soon the dodo disappeared.

Victim of Hotel Blaze Exposed, Had Two Wives

NEW YORK (AP) — A house painter who died of a heart attack during a fire in the Hotel New Yorker has been exposed as a bigamist who had two wives for the past nine years.

Detective John Aiveoli said neither of the two women knew of the existence of the other.

The painter, Emanuel Veneziano, was an employe of the hotel and died during the fire Monday in which 19 persons were overcome by smoke.

Veneziano became estanged from his first wife, Jennie, in 1951, after 19 years of marriage and married a second woman, Alejandrina, now 44, the detectives said.

Every Sunday Veneziano visited his first wife and their son, Joseph. Mrs. Alejandrina explained to neighbors that her husband worked out of town.

Veneziano's double life was exposed when Mrs. Alejandrina Veneziano phoned Joseph—whom she had believed was simply her husband's nephew—and told him of Veneziano's death.

Joseph then told her he actually was Veneziano's son.

Both women laid claim to the body, but Detective Aiveoli, acting as an arbiter, turned it over to Joseph.

Both women were beneficiaries in insurance policies held by Veneziano.

'Gospel Fund' Going To Buy School Books

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—The $12,000 'gospel fund" in the Town of Lansing, north of here, will be turned over to the Board of Education to buy library books.

Voters in the town approved the action 796 to 381 in Tuesday's election.

The gospel fund, one of the few remaining in the state, was created in Revolutionary War times. Free land was turned over to veterans of the war. If the veterans did not take up the offer, the land was sold and the proceeds turned over to the fund.

In past years, money in the fund has been loaned to destitute families.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—John F. Kennedy called his first formal press conference as president-elect today, presumably to announce the initial steps in arranging liaison with the Eisenhower administration.

Havana Credits 3 Russians for Liberating Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Three Russians helped the Cubans liberate their island from Spain during the war 62 years ago, the Castro-controlled newspaper El Mundo said today.

The paper gave front-page attention to a Cuban news agency dispatch from Moscow that bases the claim on information in the national archives there.

The archives disclose, said the news agency, that a Russian ship sailed from Leningrad — then called St. Petersburg—to Cuba in 1896. Three Russians aboard fought six months with the insurgent forces of Gens. Antonio Maceo and Guillermo Moncada, but were captured and sentenced to death. They were freed through the intervention of the Russian consul in Havana, the agency said.

Propagandists for Fidel Castro have been trying to rewrite Cuban history lately to show that the United States, rather than helping to free Cuba, entered a war already won from Spain to gain economic penetration.
